

British Troops Land in China

British troops bivouacked in Shanghai. They are part of a new British defense force that has just landed there.

How Bandits Blew Up Pay-Roll Car

Photograph shows the scene of the $100,000 pay-roll robbery near Pittsburgh. Bandits planted dynamite charges in a dirt road, which they exploded by electricity. Five drivers and guards were injured.

British Auto Race Star Killed

Photograph shows Parry Thomas, British auto racing star, at the wheel of his machine Babs, in which he met his death during a recent effort to set a new speed record. Thomas was making 100 miles an hour when the driving chain broke, decapitating the driver.

Picturesque Carnival at Binche

Every year since 1540 the inhabitants of the little town of Binche, Belgium, parade through the streets on Shrove Tuesday wearing gay costumes and long ostrich plumes. Photograph shows a view of the public square during the celebration.

Eastern Girl Shows the West

Photograph shows Mabel C. Oggeson, a Buffalo (N. Y.) girl, who never was on a horse before, who rode a broncho 200 miles over the Rocky mountain trails of Glacier National park, setting a new park record for "horseback hiking."

Lead Americans in Nicaragua

Photograph shows American officers commanding the forces now on duty in Nicaragua. From left to right are Commander Austin of the U. S. S. Milwaukee; Captain Woodward, in command of landing forces at Leon and Corinto; Admiral Latimer; Captain Townsend of U. S. S. Galveston; Lieutenant Commander Richardson of U. S. S. Galveston.

Dawes Visits Sister in Florida

Vice President Dawes and his sister, Mrs. Harry B. Hoyt, at Jacksonville, Florida.

Not Transferable

Advertising slogans are all right, but it won't do to mix them. Imagine an undertaker adopting "Eventually, Why Not Now?"—Dayton News.

Possible Explanation

Jud Tunkins says a man who always agrees with you is maybe in too much of a hurry to take time for an argument.—Washington Star.