Times are hard, money difficult to get. Everybody says so and still there was never as much money being spent or never as much building being done, or as many big projects under way. Times are hard only because too many people bought cars, radios, etc., on time payments and the many "dollars a month" obligations come faster than the wages interest works while you sleep.

The nice weather of the past week might have been too tempting for exposures, or perhaps an attempt to be the unusual condition, caused the American editor to hold a rocking chair down for most of the week, in a sunny corner of home. It was the "flu" or a severe cold that made the time so annoying. Then to make matters worse, Mr. Richardson got the habit and remained in bed two days with the same ailment. All well again, however, and the wheels are grinding again.

Edward Gore of Medford was doing insurance business in Ashland Friday.

Rev. Barney of the Christian church will not be able to fill the pulpit here next Sunday as he is one of the graduates at the E. B. U. exercises and will be detained on account of commencement. He stated that he would be here the first Sunday in June in company with his wife.

MOVIE COLUMN

COMMENTS OF COMING ATTRACTION TO VINING

The local theatre has an immense program mapped out for the week beginning this Saturday. They will have an entire change of program every day for the week, and one night they will have an extra attraction in the way of a vaudeville "Amateur Night." The week starts Saturday, May 28 with "Jim," the Conqueror, a truly western picture full of action and thrills. Then on Sunday, May 29, "Ladies at Play," featuring the most noted comedy stars now. Monday, "Don't Tell the Wife," this sounds interesting, and it will prove as good as it sounds. Irene Rich is always good, and the scene describing springtime among the gay life of Paris, Tuesday, May 31, is "Love Thrill" and the title is demonstrated in every movie. Laura LaPlante is at her best in this and as advertised, you will get a thrill that comes once in a lifetime. This picture has been proclaimed the best comedy romance of the season. Reading the advance sheets was like reading an interesting novel. Wednesday we will all see "The Pendleton Round Up." Pictures taken at the last event in Pendleton. Many who have seen them say it is as good as being at the big show. Instead of going to Pendleton this year we will take in the theatre this night and credit ourselves with the difference in railroad fare. Thursday, June 2, "White flannels." The best show of the week. Louise Dresser takes the mother part and she has never been out-classed

It is a drama of a coal miners wife who wanted her son to be a white flannelled college boy. It is a great picture and carries a splendid moral all the way through. A half dozen noted stars make up the splendid cast. On Friday June 3, "Her Father said No." It hums with speed and only one way to describe it—that is the funniest picture you ever saw. All totaled—it is a great week at the Vining.

BAR TO PROGRESS

One of the most notable contributions in the discussion of government in business has recently come from the pen of John Spargo, author and lecturer and long associated with the socialist cause. He has made a concise statement with respect to a general movement looking to the nationalization of an important part of our industrial development and in the New York Times of May 8, he says:

"Unless I misread the signs that have already appeared upon the political horizon, the next Congress will witness, and perhaps be characterized by, a vigorous determined and ably led attempt to place an important part of the industrial development of the county under government ownership and management."

"Such a menace to our national well-being is not to be lightly regarded. Forewarned is forearmed. Plausible and alluring in theory as it undoubtedly is in practice government ownership and management of industry everywhere results in arrested progress, stagnation, lowered efficiency and an appalling growth of bureaucracy. It would be difficult to conceive of anything more disastrous occurring in our economic life than such an extension of the principle of nationalization propagandists with their headquarters in
