Have Summer Class
Miss Fay Carver, director of the playground, will conduct a class for swimmers at Helman's baths, starting tomorrow, she announced recently. Last year Miss Carver graduated nearly 40 boys and girls, as proficient swimmers.

Instruction for the girls starts at 9:30 o'clock, and the boys are instructed to be at the pool an hour later. The classes will be held on Wednesday and Friday mornings, and the price, according to Miss Carver, will be 25 cents unless bathing suits are furnished by the swimmers, in that case it will be 20 cents.

By a special grant of the exalted Ruler of the Elks, National Flag Day will be set ahead two days, making the date here Sunday June 12, instead of June 14, according to an announcement made yesterday by E. T. Staples, flag day chairman.

In observance of this day, a public entertainment has been planned by the Elks, to be held in the Vining Theatre Sunday afternoon beginning at 2:00 o'clock. Exercises will be conducted by the lodge under a new and vastly different flag-ritual, according to Mr. Staples. This will include a description of the eight flags from "Cabot to present day." Following the exercises there will be an interesting picture shown, "Moulders of Men" starring Conway Tearle and introducing a juvenile character. Many who have seen this picture pronounce it the best they have ever seen on the screen. The play was written by an Elk and later purchased by the Elk Grand Lodge. The public is invited free of charge, Mr. Staples announced.
