Mrs. Meikle Entertained.

Mrs. Sylvan Provost, who has as her guest, Mrs. J. F. Meikle of Oakland, California, has given several lovely parties in her honor which have been especially enjoyed because Mrs. Meikle is an old time resident of Ashland and has such a host of friend here who are so delighted to meet and visit with her again. On Saturday evening, Mrs. Provost asked six ladies to her hospitable home, complimenting Mrs. Meikel, who included Mrs. W. L. Maxey, Mrs. Herbert McCarthy, Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Balis and Mrs. Hughs.

On Thursday evening, Mrs. A. H. Pracht had an informal dinner at her home on Vista Street, with Mrs. Meikle as guest of honor and reminiscences of old times was much enjoyed.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Sylvan Provost again opened her home to eight ladies when she entertained with a beautifully appointed luncheon at 1:30 o'clock. The luncheon table was so attractive with spring flowers, and sprightly conversation of old times when the guest of honor resided here was included in the following ladies greatly enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Provost Mrs. Daisy McGarry, Mrs. Emil Piel, Dr. Mattie Shaw, Mrs. E. D. Briggs, Mrs. O. Winters, Mrs. J. P. Wolfe, and the honored guest Mrs. Meikel.

Mrs. Claycomb's Guests Complimented

The house guest of Mrs. H. L. Claycomb on Harrison street, who are Mrs. Claycomb's sisters, Mrs. A. B. Petrie and Mrs. Petrie's daughter, Mrs. Harry L. Smith, both of Stockton, California, were the honored affairs this week. Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Henry G. Enders, Jr. entertained at a matinee party complimenting Mrs. Petrie and Mrs. Smith, driving to Medford to attend the vaudeville program, and later having a delightful luncheon.

On Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Read invited several guests to their home on Harrison street to meet Mrs. Petrie and Mrs. Smith, who included Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Paulserud, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Crandall, and Mrs. Daisy McGarry. Bridge tables were in progress and high score prizes were given to Mr. and Mrs. Paulserud. Mrs. Petrie and Mrs. Smith received guest prizes Mrs. Read served coffee before the guests departed.

On Friday evening, Mrs. Earle Crow and Mrs. Domino Provost will have four tables of bridge at the home of Mrs. Crow on Van Ness Ave., when Mrs. Petrie and Mrs. Smith, will again be the inspiration for a lovely party. Those looking forward to being the guests of Mrs. Crow and Mrs. Provost, are Mrs. H. L. Claycomb, Mrs. R. A. Petrie, Mrs. Harry L. Smith, Mrs. P. R. Hardy, Mrs. J. H. Hardy, Mrs. Henry Enders, Jr., Mrs. John Enders, Mrs. V. V. Mills, Mrs. J. A. McGee, Mrs. Charles A. Haines, Mrs. O. A. Paulserud, Mrs. Sylvan Provost, Mrs. Herbert McCarthy, and Mrs. Clifford J. Read.

Delphian Luncheon

One of the outstanding social affairs of the week was the one o'clock luncheon at the Lithia Springs hotel, given by Beta Chapter of Delphians, with Mrs. Herbert McCarthy, vice-president and social chairman in charge, together with her committee composed of Mrs. Don Whitney, Mrs. Earle Crow and Mrs. Charles Haines.

The ladies, gowned in summer frocks of pastel shades and with lovely picture hats, gathered together before the luncheon hour and made the lobby of the hotel appear as a veritable summer flower garden. The long luncheon tables where about 50 members of the Delphians and their invited guests were seated, were made extremely attractive with huge bouquets of roses, and sweet peas, and with garlands and wild honey-suckle. Each guest found at her place an adorable corsage of Cecil Brunner roses, for-get-me-nots and fern, and each member of the club found at her place a Delphian emblem book marker, presented by the committee.

During luncheon there was music by Mrs. Walter Redford, and also two pleasing solo numbers by Miss Florence Allen, accompanied by Miss Imogene Wallace.

During the business session, over which Mrs. Maxey, president, presided, there was election of officers to serve for the coming year, Wednesday's meeting being the last for this year. Mrs. Herbert McCarthy was elected President; Mrs. Judd Miller, Vice-President; and Mrs. George Yeo, Secretary-Treasurer. Mrs. Victor Mills, the retiring Supervisor, was presented with a gorgeous bouquet of roses in appreciation of the work she has done for the past two years, and Mrs. Mills, in congratulating the new Supervisor, Mrs. F. G. Swendenburg, presented her with the bouquet with the best wishes of herself and the club, pledging cooperation and support. Dr. Mattie Shaw was appointed dramatic critic for the coming year.

An interesting and instructive program followed which touched upon "The High Lights of the Renaissance," the lives of artists, sculptors and poets of that time being reviewed. Mrs. Charles Haines, Mrs. J. M. Wagner, Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. G. A. Briscoe, Mrs. Judd Miller, Mrs.

S. A. Peters, Jr., and Dr. Mattie Shaw each contributed to the program. Mrs. Walter Redford gave a very enlightening book review of Hugh Walpole's latest book, "Farmer John." Mrs. D. Peruzzi assisted by Mrs. Briscoe, gave a short parliamentary drill, and Mrs. W. G. Gregg and Mrs. Walter Everton contributed current events, which brought the meeting to a close.
