

JULY 4
These committees are asked to begin work immediately so that all arrangements will have been completed by July 4.

Ashland has had celebrations for the last few years, though for number of years its three-day fetes were known all over the coast. It was decided that this year no entertainment other than Hyatt celebration would be held, and enthusiasm is running high for this event.

BATTERY
Prior to date of encampment so not here this year.

Artillery drill was held for all batteries Thursday, Friday and Saturday, an artillery inspection taking place on Saturday. Batteries B (Ashland) and C (Marshfield) were assigned respectively to No. 1 and 2 guns at Battery Russell, which is a battery of 10-inch, breech loading rifles with disappearing carriage. We will use a cast iron projectile weighing 510 lbs. this year (617 lbs. last year) and 153 lbs of nitro-cellulose powder and fire eight rounds for our service practice, which is scheduled for Wednesday the 22d. The Monday and Tuesday to this being devoted to sub-machine practice where 100 rounds will be fired.

At noon Saturday, most of the officers and men went to Astoria for the week end. A twenty-mile relay race was staged from Astoria and finishing on Commercial street Astoria. A baseball game between the Astoria Elks Guests, Mr. Fuller said. Senator McNary is expected to give the leading speech, but other members of the delegation will also have something interesting to say.

A number of people are expected from the Talent Irrigation District, and Mr. Fuller urges that everyone who wishes to make reservations for the affair do so at the earliest possible date.

Plans for the entertainment of the congressmen were formulated at a meeting held in Medford Tuesday evening.
This is Senator McNary's first visit to Southern Oregon for a number of years, and his visit here is of considerable interest to his many friends.

No entertainment other than that mentioned has been formulated by the committee, Mr. Fuller said. Their visit in Ashland will

STEALS FRIENDS AUTO

The two went to Prospect to work, and Robinson left his car in storage in a local garage.

Williams worked one day and quit, and when he quit he took along Robinson's handbag.
Out of the grip he removed a suit, shirt and other raiment, and also the papers with which he succeeded in getting the car out of storage.

He sold the car to J. J. Stanning, who has left town.
Robinson arrived in town the same evening, and together with Charley Claus they began a search which ended in finding Williams on a stage which was preparing to start north.

Police officers are attempting to locate Stanning. He is driving a touring car with a California license No. 1-005-741.

MANY ATTEND

was won by Mr. E. B. Poyer among the men for which he received a prize, a pair of golf sexes from Miller's Toggery. Mrs. M. W. Parkinson won the ladies driving contest, which was a golf ball from Provost Hardware Company.

The masher contest was under the direction of Mrs. Fred Engle, and there were many entrants. It was won by Mrs. Roy Buckingham of Medford, and she was presented with a golf ball given by the Provost Hardware store.

The putting contest, under the direction of Miss Edith Dodge was won by Mr. E. B. Poyer, for the men, Miss Laura Shea, for the ladies and Elisha Applegate for the children. Miss Applegate and Mr. Poyer received as prizes golf balls from Provost Bros., and Miss Shea was awarded a golf club from the First National Bank.

The beginners who entered the contests were: Mrs. Roy Buckingham of Medford; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Poyer; Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Parkinson; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hopper; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Heath; Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Mills; Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Galey; Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Paulserud; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stearns; Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Hardy; Miss C. E. Banta; Miss Ruth Green; Miss Laura Shea; Miss Georgia Coffee and Dr. Mattie Shaw.

The children who entered the putting contest were: Catherine McGarry, Elisha Applegate, Carl Read, Jimmie McNair, Ethel Mae Robinet and Ruth Sorrell.

Mrs. Daisy McGarry of the Lithia Springs Pharmacy, in company with Miss Elene Anderson went to Medford Tuesday evening to see Otis Skinner, in "The Honor of the Family." Otis Skinner is one of the few first-class dramatists touring the Pacific Coast, and Mrs. McGarry and Miss Anderson enjoyed the play to the utmost.
Mrs. Roy Buckingham and children of Medford, were the guests at the new Ashland golf course Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Parkinson, recently of Wichita, Kansas are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Franklin of the Franklin Bakery. Mrs. Robinson is Mrs. Franklin's niece and they have come to Ashland to make their future home.
Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson will be at the Franklin home on B street until they can get permanently located in Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Dean of Granite street, have as their guests Mrs. Myrtle Weeks of Portland, who will attend summer school at the Normal for the next six weeks.

A food sale will be held at Hardy Brothers Grocery, in the Enders Block, Saturday morning, June 26. The Christian Endeavor of the Congregational church will sponsor this sale to raise money to send a delegate to the State Christian Endeavor Convention in September.

Mrs. Sadie Stratton and daughter Marjorie, have gone to Berkeley, California to be guests at the home of Mrs. Stratton's sister for two or three weeks.

E. B. Shaw and King Barnes of Bellview were in Ashland on business Monday.
