H. A. Huntley, of Grants Pass, was so eager to fight for the Union as were many others of his time, that he 'lied' about his age, and fought for the North when only 15 years old. His brother, only 13, made the march to the sea with Sherman and died from strain.

GREAT POSSESSIONS

First among the things worth having is "a job." Something to do "because you have to do it." A job which makes it possible for everyone "to pull his own weight in the boat," as Theodore Roosevelt put it. Or, in simpler language, a job which makes it possible for each of us to earn what he spends (and saves) and to be self-dependent; which means, dependent on one's own hands and brain.

Therefore, on Labor Day take time to give thanks that you are able to work, to earn, to spend, and to save; able to be economically independent!

As Monday, September 5 (Labor Day) is a legal holiday, we shall not be open for business on that day.
