FOREST FIRES
forest, is that none of the forests was closed to visitors at any time and that thousands of persons used them freely every week during the most hazardous season. He asserts that full cooperation on the part of the public is making possible a great reduction in the annual losses from fire in the woods.

A great decrease was seen in the acreage destroyed over last year's total, which stood as the previous low point reached. There were 29 fires in 1926 but there were 3,795 acres of timber destroyed, or an average of 130 acres to the fire. The 1927 total of 62 acres burned is less than four thousandths of one per cent of the acreage in the Siskiyou forest. There are 1,669,522 acres of forest lands within the Siskiyou boundaries.

No increases have been made in the personnel in the fire fighting crews during the past season. The season, however, was as hazardous as any previous year, it was asserted by Mr. Billingslea.

Forest rangers during the summer kept records of the number of persons who visited their parts of the forest. Their total was 71,440. An effort was made by the rangers to exclude those persons believed to have been transient and who did not stop for any length of time.

The bulk of the visitors to the forest were brought by automobiles, there being 68,255 of these visitors. Boats and stages took in 1110 more. There were 1220 hikers and 850 went in with horses.

At the height of the fire season, when other forests were being closed to visitors of any kind, Supervisor Billingslea stated that the Siskiyou forest would remain open. He asked for cooperation by those visiting the woods and this morning he declared that he is more than pleased with the results this cooperation brought.

WOMAN'S CIVIC CLUB

must be accompanied by three letters of reference or endorsed by a member of the Federated Clubs. The note is signed and counter-signed, and the applicant is requested to keep in touch with the Board of Trustees by writing a letter every three months. Repayment of the loan is expected after the girl starts to loan.

Every loan that has thus been made has been promptly repaid, and last year $8,000 was paid back into the treasury. Since the organization of the Scholarship Loan in Oregon, over 600 girls have been assisted in finishing their college courses, and last year there were 107. Fourteen of this number were girls who attended the Southern Oregon Normal school in Ashland. At the present time, the Normal school has a private scholarship loan of its own, with a total of $735 in the treasury, which is used to help students with books, tuition and other expenses. The Civic Club, which has always helped to support the Oregon Scholarship Loan, will do so again this year.

Miss Jean Aitchison, Superintendent of Community Hospital, gave an interesting talk on the needs of an X-Ray machine at the hospital. The women of the Civic Club wishes to assist in putting an X-Ray machine in the hospital, and a ways and means committee, composed of Mrs. Henry G. Enders, Mrs. Don Whitney, and Mrs. Humboldt Pracht, was appointed, and will report at a later meeting.

A committee was also appointed by President Briscoe to draw up a petition to present to the city council in regard to cutting down trees in the city limits. This committee is composed of Mrs. A. E. Byrnes, Mrs. Emil Piel and Mrs. Otto Winter.

After the business meeting, there was a social hour and tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Don Whitney, Mrs. B. B. Ballis, Mrs. Hal McNair and Mrs. O. A. Paulsen.

The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday, November 15, and will be an afternoon of cards, both "500" and Bridge tables will be arranged. The hostesses in charge of the tables will be Mrs. P. K. Hammond, Mrs. C. I. J. Porier, Mrs. W. L. Mavey and

INTERCLASS DEBATES

Balding, Tom Beswick and Duane Malone. The chairman of the debate was Nedra Bartlett, and the judges were Coach Cripe, Miss Dwyer and Miss McCormack. It is generally supposed that a debate is very dry and boring, and that it is permissible for a part of the assembly to either sleep or study during one, but Monday's debate proved an exception. Child labor is an interesting subject and the debaters presented their arguments in such a pleasing and effective manner, that the entire assembly was very attentive. It is hoped that when the interscholastic debates begin that the student body will continue to show as much interest and enthusiasm as it has so far this year in its various activities.

One activity which is well under way and which the students supported very loyally is the anniversary play. Miss Dwyer, assisted by Miss Berg, Miss Clarke and Miss Radde, has selected the entire cast for the play, "His Majesty, Bunker Bean," and they have started practice.

The junior class held a candy sale at the high school Tuesday noon. The money from this, and many other similar sales that the juniors will sponsor, is to be used for the junior-senior prom and picnic. This first candy sale was well patronized by the students and the juniors made about $5.50.

Daily Trask was chairman of the candy committee.

The Hi-Y held their weekly meeting Tuesday evening at the Pioneer hall. At the business meeting, after dinner, the boys decided to become affiliated with the national organization. They made definite arrangements for entertaining the boys from Central Point at their meeting on November 15. They also made plans for next Friday as "overall day" for all the boys at high school.

At a class meeting held Tuesday noon the juniors decided on the design for their class ring. The class has been considering a great many different designs and found some difficulty in deciding upon the most attractive one.

The senior committee on pom-poms has started their work and the pom-poms will be ready to sell in a few days.

The sophomore team upholding the negative of the Child Labor question debated against the 9th grade affirmative team from the junior high last Tuesday evening, in the high school assembly. The sophomore debaters, who won by a three to 0 score were Zella Bailey, Leverett Davies and Frank Pemberton. The ninth grades were Robert Beektal, Frank Johnson, May Powell.

The Rogue News was distributed to the subscribers Wednesday, after school. As usual everyone was very much pleased with the paper.
