Miss Osmun Honored
Misses Helene and Gertrude Biede were the gracious hostesses at a birthday surprise party given at their home on Nob Hill, Saturday evening. The pleasant affair was in honor of Miss Ruth Osmun. Games were the amusement of the evening. Gladys Applegate was winner of the first prize for her efficiency and skill in this form of entertainment, and Miss Ethel Shrum was granted the consolation. Those who were present to wish Miss Osmun many happy returns of the day were. The guest of honor Miss Osmun, her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Mozier, Mrs. Charlotte Biegle, Mrs. Guy Applewhite, Mrs. George Bloomenauer, Mrs. Dan Kay, and Misses Marie Walker, Lita Walker, Emma Jenkins, Georgie Coffee, Gladys Applegate, Calia Biegle, Ethel Shrum, and the two hostesses, Helene and Gertrude Biede. Late in the evening dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

To Attend Meeting
Secretary Walter of the local Y. M. C. A. leaves the latter part of the week for Seattle, and Astoria where he has been selected as one of the leaders in the Older Boy's Conference which meets in Astoria December 9, 10, 11. The principal speaker at this meeting will be Tracy Strong of Geneva. Mr. Strong was formerly the Boy's secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Seattle, for 13 years, and is very well known throughout the United States for his efficient work in this line.

Monday Evening Art Club
Mrs. Cliff Jenkins and Mrs. J. Edward Thornton delightfully entertained the members of the Monday evening Art Club, at the attractive home of Mrs. Jenkins on Pioneer Avenue, Monday evening. The evening was spent pleasantly in conversation and needlework. Most satisfying refreshments were served by Mesdames Jenkins and Thornton to the following ladies, Mrs. Clinton Baughman, Mrs. Charles May, Mrs. John Ruger, and Mrs. David Whittle.

Holiday at Russells
A jolly group of local school teachers enjoyed the Thanksgiving holidays at Russells' camp in the Siskiyou, where they rented a cabin and cooked their meals and took hikes to Pilot Rock and other points of interest in that vicinity.

Music Study Club
The Ashland Music Study Club met Monday, November 28, in the parlors of the Presbyterian church for their regular meeting. Mrs. E. A. Woods, president of the order opened the meeting and after a short business session turned the meeting over to the program chairman, Miss Ruth Louise Yoder who presented a very interesting chapter on Gehrken's, "Fundamentals of Music," this chapter deals with the harmonic basis of music. Harmony, the last of the three musical elements to develop (rhythm, melody and harmony) was much slower to take form. Mrs. H. S. Aikins spoke on the Influence of Harmony on Form; Mrs. Alice Willits expatiated on Harmony as an element of beauty; Mrs. Hugh Mitchelmore gave a most interesting exposition of modern tendencies in Harmonic Assets and played two piano numbers to demonstrate her talk: 1. "The River," by Harl McDonald; 2. "The Open Road" by Gordon Balch Nevin.

very fine victrola in the parlors which several records were played to illustrate the subject of Harmony.

The next meeting of the club falling on December 26, has been advanced to December 19. Mrs. John Fuller will have charge of this program. The subject of the evening will be "Form and Design in Music." As this is very near the birthday anniversary of the famous composer MacDowell, attention, and exposition of his works

High School Faculty Will Be Entertained at Dinner
Members of the High school faculty and their families will be entertained at dinner at the High school building Wednesday evening when the girls of the High School cooking classes will prepare and serve the dinner. Dinner will be served at 5 o'clock and a short program and entertainment will follow.

New Study Club
Several members of the old Ashland Study Club have re-organized into a new study club which will be known as "The Monday Afternoon Study Club." The meetings are to be held each Monday afternoon in the Ashland Public Library.

The members are taking up the study of Oregon History. Mrs. Charles Robertson was elected president of the club and Mrs. Bert Hinthorne, secretary. Much interest and enthusiasm is expressed by the different members for the work outlined for the coming year. At present they have only twelve members but they hope to reach a membership of twenty before the first of the year. Read the advertisements.

YOU CHECKING ACCOUNT

Nearly everyone with a stated income has a checking account these days, but few run their accounts in the most approved and efficient manner.

The first place, your checking account should be a record of all money you receive. This can only be so if you deposit all your income, and draw cash or pay bills by check against your account.

Adopt this plan and you will find your checking account of far greater value to you.

We are always glad to explain these details to customers personally.
