Mrs. Malmgren formerly came to Ashland each week to instruct her class in French, but in the early spring she was injured in an automobile accident and has never fully recovered her former health however she is very anxious to have her pupils keep up with their class work and is willing to give all the assistance in her power. So the ladies decided to meet at her home once a week as the easier and better course.

Homecoming a Success
The annual Homecoming staged by Hope Rebekah Lodge No. 14 of this city, Tuesday evening in the lodge room of the I. O. O. F. building proved to be more than a success; it was a regular reunion between old friends in the lodge.

A very novel and varied program was carried out when each member responded to roll call with a joke, some humorous saying, a famous quotation, a recitation, a solo, or an extemporaneous speech. Mrs. Nellie Madden, Noble Grand of the Ashland Rebekah lodge gave a cordial address of welcome; Mrs. D. Perozzi responded with the history of the Rebekah lodge and the life of Schuyler Colfax, founder of the order of Odd Fellowship; many beautiful, and inspiring messages were sent in by members who were unable to attend. The long roll call was interspersed with peppy Rebekah songs, sung to the tunes of favorite old songs and hymns, and under the lively leadership of Mrs. Edwin Dunn.

A dainty lunch was prepared by the refreshment committee, and covers were laid in the beautifully decorated dining room for 150 members and guests.

Cards and dancing were indulged in during the evening, music for the dancing was furnished by the following members of the order: Mr. Montgomery, banjo, Charlie Blake-violin, George Crapsey, guitar, and Mrs. Melissa Hamaker, piano.
