A complete description of the new line of Ford automobiles was made public in Ashland Tuesday.

When the reception closed at 12 o'clock Tuesday night, it was estimated that 4029 people had visited the showrooms and learned the details of the revolutionary car which is to succeed the famous Model T Ford after more than nineteen years of leadership in the low price light car field.

Visitors to the show-room included city officials, heads of civic, commercial and professional organizations and many prominent business men. The entire sales force of the local dealer was kept busy throughout the day and evening pointing out the new features of this new car which Henry Ford himself has described as being "superior in design and performance to any now available in the low price, light car field."
