

Market Trend Shows Gain

showed slight declines in California and Oregon egg production outweighed by a five per cent increase in Washington, with the result that coast production maintained the upward trend started several weeks ago. Coast markets generally were unchanged, but improvement in tone was noted as due to advance in eastern markets and to pick-up in local demand for both fresh and storage. Total receipts at the four leading markets increased slightly, but still were behind the same week a year ago. Prices of Pacific coast extras gained four cents in New York.

Ranges Not So Good

Except in the southwest, there are very short supplies of winter feed on western ranges, but live stock generally was in fair to good condition November 1. In Washington, fall rains came too late to help range and pastures, which were dry and short. Hay and grain, however, were ample. Oregon winter range and feed prospects were poor, with some sections still short of water, and hay and feed grain short in many eastern areas. Rain improved some Idaho situations, but here, too, winter range feed prospects were poor. Except in a few cases, hay and grain supplies were ample.

At North Portland last Friday slaughter hog values were weak at levels 10 cents higher than the week before, most of the preceding Monday's 25 to 35 cent advance having disappeared by midweek. Most cattle classes throughout the week sold steady to strong with the previous week's close, and sheep and lambs were steady. All departments showed larger receipts.

Cattle—Receipts heavier at North Portland; most classes sell well.

Sheep—Market steady; feeding in the west shows no gain.

Hogs—Slaughter classes lose last week's early gain; more on market.

Wool—Long quiet market shows signs of activity; price gains noted.

Wheat—One guess as good as another, says economist; figures furnished.

Feed grains—Demand more active as winter nears; price well sustained.

Hay—Markets light; best northwest brings $8.50.

Butter—Prices little changed, but country-wide position stronger.

Eggs—Coast production still mounting; market has firmer tone.

Potatoes—Improvement sends Yakimas to $15; Idaho growers holding.

Apples—Activity of export trade brightest ray in dull situation.

Prunes—Foreign interest resurges little market.

Old ResidentVisits Friends in Central Point

Mr. Harry Tuttle of Grand Forks, N. D., was calling on friends Thursday.

He lived here about 20 years ago and was Y. M. C. A. secretary for a large organization in Central Point. He is on his way to southern California to spend the winter.

Mr. Tuttle remarked that he saw many improvements since he went away—he says nothing would make him so happy as to be able to live in southern Oregon again.

It is reported today that the county court already has voted to levy a one-tenth mill increase in the library fund over the one-tenth mill levy already announced. There seems to have been a general demand from the rural districts for such an increase.

The petition sent in by Mr. Moore may have arrived too late to assist in convincing the county court of the good policy of increasing the library fund, but it at least shows the sentiment of the Central Point district in this matter.

Petition Sent To County Court For Library Aid

R. H. Moore, who has been busy the past week circulating a petition asking the county court to rescind their action in reducing the budget allowance for the Jackson county library, today sent the petition to the court at Medford.

Mr. Moore states he was very successful in obtaining signatures to the petition. About 155 names were secured, including business men, teachers and high school students.

O. S. Blackford was a caller at the American office this morning. During the course of the conversation it transpired that we had been getting our winter supply of grapes from Mr. Blackford for the past four years, but never knew each other's names.

Representative Hawley of Oregon favors increasing the public debt to take care of relief, reclamation and government expenditures.

The Nautilus is back. It is lucky. Apparently, it hasn't done much or found much. We rather think its getting back was the biggest accomplishment. It was a foolhardy project from the first.

Order "Dr. Herbert's Story of the Bible" from Mrs. Young. Wonderful gift to old or young. Various reduced prices.

Bible School and Morning Worship, 10:00 o'clock.

Christian Endeavor, 7 o'clock.

Junior Choir, 4 o'clock, Thursday.

The Bible school attendance reached the highest mark last Sunday that has been pictured on the graph.

The Christmas program preparations under way promise an unusual entertainment for Christmas Eve.

Following the program the Christian Endeavor and Mrs. Young's High School class of young people will leave the church to sing carols for the shut-ins; after which they will enjoy warm refreshments and a social time at some home.

Mrs. Bursell's class will hold their annual Christmas party at the church Friday afternoon, Dec. 11. They will enjoy a Christmas tree and an afternoon of programs and games following the regular business meeting.

The Ladies' Missionary circle will hold a cooked food sale Saturday morning at Jones' grocery.

Dr. Emmet J. Carpenter

WHOSE OFFICE IN THE HOLLY THEATER BUILDING IN MEDFORD IS ONE OF OREGON'S LEADING CHIROPRACTORS. HE IS OFFERING JACKSON COUNTY RESIDENTS THE BEST IN CHIROPRACTIC HEALTH SERVICE AND ELECTRO-THERAPY SERVICE.

The nervous system of the human body is designed to carry life force to every part of the body and it is doing to keep it in perfect health.

However, at times when bodily resistance is below normal, disease will creep in.

Any local physical ailment can be quickly relieved if nature is assisted by way of seeing that the nerve centers which serve that part of the body are functioning normally and are not impinged in any way. Many of our physical ailments are caused or aggravated by nerve impingement and if the nerve is relieved the ailment naturally disappears.

For this reason Chiropractic adjustments have reached and corrected many acute and chronic diseases that other health methods have failed to improve. The real reason for this remarkable success has accounted for in the foregoing explanation, namely: That Chiropractors do not go to the immediate cause of the trouble and correct it with the result that the ailment definitely disappears, whereas if symptoms only are treated, it might be arrested for a short time but not definitely cured.

Dr. Carpenter is one of Oregon's leading Chiropractors, being a graduate of the Oregon State College of Chiropractic at Portland, and is well equipped with both training and experience to give chiropractic adjustments that will and do give results.

He spares no time nor expense in keeping pace with his profession in both knowledge and office equipment, an example of which is the calibro magnavox instrument which accurately detects and locates any ailment and its cause, be it external or internal in nature. Dr. Carpenter also has complete electro-therapy equipment which is very efficient in giving immediate relief and breaking down inflammations and constrictions in any part of the body.

In the years he has practiced here he has not only built up an enviable reputation, but because of the astonishing results he gets, he has assumed a prominent place in the Jackson county professional world.

If you are having trouble with your health, see Dr. Carpenter and allow him to give you a spinal analysis.
