POINTS from the POINTERS

The following article was written by one of the senior boys in English class:

WHY I HAVE CHOSEN SHEEPHERDING AS MY PROFESSION

To succeed in anything, one must be well suited for his job. I am very well suited for my chosen profession. A horse trainer must necessarily know more than the horse, but a sheepherder does not have to know more than the sheep.

Sheepherding also has many merits. In the first place, it leaves plenty of time for deep thinking. Now most sheepherders' thoughts are not very deep. They may be such as "Why some sheep are black," or "Why water doesn't run uphill." I intend to devote a good deal of my time in figuring out how many splinters there are in a board.

You are out of reach of all bad influences of our modern life, such as pool halls, beer gardens, theatres, and girls that chew gum. Your food is simple and healthful. It consists of bacon and beans, mostly beans. You never have to worry about your income tax. You are out of reach of mail, which saves you the cost of postage stamps. You do not have to worry about house rent, electric light bills or hair cuts and shaves. If you let your hair and whiskers grow, you save the cost of sunburn lotion. So you can see that sheepherding is a good profession financially. But the greatest benefit is that you benefit humanity by your absence.

There is a story of a sheepherder who lost a few of his sheep each day until finally they were all gone. He then went back to his employer and said: "If you want me to work for you, I'll have to have some more sheep." Now I don't intend to ever do anything like that, and another thing I'll never do is snore loud enough to wake myself.

A group of young ladies met at the home of Mrs. Doyle Mills last Friday to form a club. Several names were discussed but a suitable one was not found. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. John Clark for the next meeting. The girls spent an enjoyable afternoon. Mrs. Mills served tasty refreshments of sandwiches and tea. Those present were Mesdames Walter Carr, Lloyd Root, Edwin Martin, John Clark, Steve Bengston and Misses Merle Hedgpeth, Ruth Turpin and the hostess, Mrs. Mills.

Mrs. G. E. Wilcock of Aisee, Oregon is visiting her mother Mrs. Mary Grim. She expects to be here for a couple of months.

Sending Washing Out Is Aid, Says Sister

Dear Nancy: I have waited until I know how that plan you suggested would work out before writing. You know I told you how I just couldn't give up either my part-time job or my business college course to help mother since Bill died. The whole living expense depends on me in another year, as Bill carried such small insurance that it will never keep mother and the children longer than that. Mother is a darling, but she simply isn't used to hard work and hasn't the strength to do large washings, so our linens and towels, in fact the entire wash was so dingy I was actually ashamed to have any of my friends come to the house.

After your suggestion of doing wash I called 166 and the Domestic Laundry came for our wash. It really isn't any more costly and how much nicer our clothes look! Mother is a lovely ironer and now I can be sure that our linen will be snowy white. Also mother is rested and can give more time to the rest of the work. Even now she has saved as much as the wash cost by making over some of my clothes for the kiddies.

Me for the Domestic Laundry after this! Kiss the babies for me. Dearest Love, HELEN.

POINTERS WIN CONFERENCE GAMES WITH GOLD HILL

Continuing their conference games the Pointers played against Gold Hill last Friday night at Gold Hill. The Pointers won both games.

The B team started their game a little overconfident and it looked like their opponents would win, but the locals showed mire fight and won by a fairly large score.

The A team played next and won their game. Quite a few fouls were made—one boy going out on fouls, and several on both teams had three fouls called on them. Ivan Harrington refereed both games.
