Harold and Muriel Kilburn are both at home with the measles.

Herbert Crowder had his tonsils removed by Dr. Wilson last Friday.

Allie Maple, Rod Westterfield, Del Virgin and two other musicians went to the Crater Lake CCC camp and furnished music for the last evening before disbanding that company. Wilbur Yakel, who was a member of the camp, has a position in the office of the Roseburg camp.

Tom Muse, accompanied by his friend, Mr. Popline, spent a two weeks' furlough visiting Mr. Muse's parents at the Tolo Gardens. They left for Fort Bragg, Utah, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. William Musty called on her mother, Mrs. Belle Davis, and sister, Mrs. Wlesner, in Medford Tuesday.

The Kraft Cheese company which purchased the cheese factory, were in town this week and stated they expect to take possession of the plant soon.

We received a card from Mrs. Bartol requesting that her paper be sent to Parma, Idaho, instead of Caldwell.

WANTED—Maternity cases. $25 for two weeks. Phone 7X2. Mrs. William Musty.

When the summer days steal away,
And the woodland voice quaintly trills,
And trees, whisper coyly all the day,
We know, 'tis autumn in the hills.

The mountains wear a deeper hue,
A glam'rous haze the valley fills,
The landscape shows every hue
Because, 'tis autumn in the hills.

Shadows deepen as day declines,
And dreamy castles twilight builds;
Distant tinklings, like vesper chimes,
Proclaim, 'tis autumn in the hills.

No artist's brush the canvas wakes,
Nor pen inspired, the prophet wills,
Excel the art, that nature makes
To show, 'tis autumn in the hills.

The gracious earth, from plenty's horn,
Each woodland host, his larder fills;
Prepared to brave old Winter's storm
After, 'tis autumn in the hills.

In fragrant beauty the flowers died;
And Jack Frost plies his magic skills;
To warmer climes the birds have fled
Finding, 'tis autumn in the hills!

Bright days will come, new hope will bloom,
The eternal law of life fulfills;
Thus faith triumphs o'er doubt and wrong,
Surely, as autumn in the hills.

'Tis grand to end life's turbid dream
With service, more of good than ill;
Leaving foot-prints along the stream
Glowing, like autumn in the hills!

Mrs. Ober Hanson will entertain with a Halloween dinner party Saturday evening. Fourteen guests will be present, friends from Portland, Rogue River and here.

Dr. E. W. Hoffman, who is well known in this valley, has moved into the very attractive rooms in the Medford Center building, which were newly remodeled and decorated for the late Dr. Carpenter. Dr. Hoffman has practiced in Medford for twenty years and is recognized as a very successful specialist in diseases of the nervous system. He was formerly located in the Farmers & Fruit-growers Bank building.

Roy Jones received a letter from his daughter, Jerry, saying she likes her work very much. She has work in the California Oregon Power company office at Dunsmuir.

Mr. Newman, accompanied by Mr. John Welsh arrived here Wednesday from Klamath Falls. Mr. Newman will visit at the Buckman home. Mr. Welsh, after a short visit with friends here, continued on to Gold Hill and will be an over-night guest of his daughter and family. The two men planned to return to their homes today.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tonn and Mr. and Mrs. George Marine attended the Grange dinner at Jacksonville Tuesday evening.

Helen Long is confined to her home with measles.

A fan blade was either broken or thrown from the fan with sufficient force to strike the pavement and fly across the street and break the glass in the door of Long's Second Hand store, striking Mr. Long, who was standing inside the door, a very hard blow, or else someone threw the blade on purpose to do all the damage they could. This happened on Tuesday evening while the charivari crowd for Mr. and Mrs. Higgenbotham gathered across the street from Mr. Long's store.

Ernest Rostell returned to Crater Lake Tuesday morning.

The Humphrey's Market wishes to announce that they will have their meat ready to market today.

The Bible Study class of the Federated church met at the Roy Nichols home Wednesday afternoon.

5 definite new radio gains guaranteed!

- 1 More stations to enjoy—weaker stations automatically made hearable by CentrOmatic Engineering. An almost unbelievable increase in number of short wave stations you can get.
- 2 Better, clearer tone—the liberated tone of the program itself, purified and rounded out to a degree of perfection hitherto unattainable.
- 3 Greater freedom from noise—both on the station and between stations. Short wave programs ordinarily drowned out, are revived by the extraordinary low noise level.
- 4 Easier, accurate tuning—for the first time the CentrOmatic Unit centralizes all the elements necessary for tuning in the station you select. True accurate tuning becomes simplicity itself.
- 5 Surpassing dependability—resulting from 90% less wiring and 104 fewer soldered connections.
