A good pair overalls, 98c at Faber's

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Mears and Miss Martha Smith enjoyed dinner at the Sanford J. Richardson home Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Mears and Miss Smith left this morning at four o'clock for Ephrata, Washington, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Jake Myers was operated on at the Sacred Heart hospital last Friday morning and is doing nicely. She expects to return home soon. The morning after she left, Homer was in bed with a well developed case. Mrs. James Cummings, his aunt, cared for him during his illness.

The Citadel of Our Freedom
By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

The Supreme Court of the United States meets this session in its new home across from the Capitol at Washington.

Beautiful and impressive, the structure cost some $9,000,000 to build. That, it has been pointed out, is about half the price of a battleship.

But, as a defender of our freedom, the Supreme Court building with all that it represents is many times more valuable than any dreadnaught.

The battleship guards us against dangers from without.

The Supreme Court—as protector and interpreter of the Constitution—guards our government, and our freedom against dangers from within.

It is the Supreme Court that says "Stop" when our personal liberty or the safeguarding provisions of our Constitution are violated.

It is the citadel of our freedom.

There have been efforts—both past and recent—to weaken that citadel. There have been attempts to transfer the powers vested in the Supreme Court to other branches of government. Firmly the people have resisted such proposals. Emphatically they have demonstrated that they want no stone removed from the fortress that guards their constitutional rights.

And they are right. They know that when that fortress falls, the freedom assured them under the Constitution can perish with it.

Remember, it was the Declaration of Independence that won our freedom; it was the Constitution that preserved it; and it is the Supreme Court that protects it.

GARDEN, SHRUBS, & FLOWERS

By Virginia Powell
Has anyone started their lily planting yet?

We have Mrs. Theodore Glass has a long row of lovely (we called them St. Joseph lily, but have been informed that they are the Madonna) lilies along the road in front of her house, so last week we planted a row right across the street from her's. If our lilies are as lovely this spring as her's were last spring, we invite you all right now to saunter out this way some lovely spring day next year and enjoy them with us. We might even spare you one or two.

If anyone has cuttings or roots of any flowers to give away we will gladly let it be known through this column. We would also like anyone who is planting lilies to give us their names so we can print it in this space.

We were delighted when we were given a numor of Regal Lily seeds in Medford this week. Can hardly wait till spring to plant them.

TAXES FOR EVERYBODY!
A noted humorist, asked recently what was the best laugh topic, replied: "Taxes! Everybody pays them."

But while we laugh, the cost of government—national, state and local—climbs and climbs. And John Citizen pays dearly for his laughs.

YOUNG SCHEPERS, Manager

Today there is an invisible guest who sits at the table of every family in this country. He is the invisible tax eater that collects the hidden taxes. When the housewife purchases three pork chops, the butcher weighs them out but only wraps up one. The third he gives to this invisible guest. This steady sapping of the national incomes to meet public expenses was cited by Lewis H. Brown, president of the Johns-Manville Corporation, in a recent address to the American Bankers Association.
