It has been requested by a number of our readers that we publish these recipes again. We will be pleased to receive favorite recipes from any of our readers. We would like to get them by Monday of each week if possible.

STEAMED FRUIT CAKE

- 3-4 cup brown sugar
- 2 cups flour
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 3 eggs
- 1/2 cup milk or grape juice
- 1 teaspoonful soda
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1 cup dates
- 1 cup raisins
- 1/4 cup citron
- 1/2 cup currants
- 1/2 teaspoonful salt
- 1/2 cup nut meals
- spices

Mix and steam 2 or more hours then put in hot oven for five minutes. Should stand for a week before serving.

FRUIT CAKE

- 1 lb. butter
- 1 lb. sugar
- 1 lb. flour
- 2 lbs. raisins
- 2 lbs. currants
- 1/2 lb. citron
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1 cup grape juice
- 2 teaspoons baking powder.
- 1 teaspoonful of each: cinnamon, nutmeg or mace, allspice.

Bake slow three hours. Considered a good plan to stand it in pan of water for first half of baking.

EGGLES, BUTTERLESS, MILK-LESS CAKE

- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 1/2 cups water
- 1 cup seed raisins
- 2 ounces citron, cut fine
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 teaspoonful salt
- 1 teaspoonful nutmeg
- 1 teaspoonful cinnamon
- 2 cups flour
- 5 teaspoonfuls baking powder

Boil all ingredients except flour and baking powder, together for 3 minutes. Let cool, sift flour and baking powder together three times add and mix well. Bake in greased loaf pan for about 45 minutes. It is improved with age.

Medford School of Beauty Culture

moved onto the Reed place the first of last week.

Miss Helen Williams of Medford spent last weekend with her mother Mrs. A. B. Williams and left Wednesday evening for a four-day vacation in Portland.

Claudine Stallings is recovering from the measles and fortunately did not have a severe case.

Mr. Ray Blaine has been entertaining Mr. Barker of Medford the past week.

Guests at the Williams and Seegmiller home Friday were Mrs. Arthur Hess and son Billy, and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Seegmiller and small daughter, Donna Marie.

Mr. Bowen rushed to Medford last Saturday on business.

Mr. C. R. Williams left Tuesday for Portland to be with his children over the holidays. He plans to be gone for an indefinite period.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warren took eighteen turkeys to market last Wednesday.

Delbert Mongold of the Long Mountain district, representative of the "Milk Testing Association" signed up Williams and Seegmiller in the Association last Friday. He tested Friday night and Saturday morning and will test hereafter each month. The dairymen were very well pleased with his first tests.

Milton Sanderson of the Green Springs Mountain district visited home folks Friday evening.

Reverend Lewis of the Federated church of Central Point will hold preaching services at the Antioch School House at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Dec. 8th. An invitation to attend is extended to everyone.

Pupils in this district who attend the Sams Valley school were surprised by the news that their principal, Mr. Empey, was quarantined for scarlet fever and school would not reopen again this week. It is expected the school will reopen next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grant and son Donald were callers at the Williams and Seegmiller new home last Saturday night.

Mrs. McFarland recently returned from a month's stay in Medford where she has been receiving medical care. We are glad to welcome her back and hope she is much improved in health.

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

The Federal direct relief program will shortly be a thing of the past.

Reason: The Works Progress Administration, which provides jobs instead of cash handouts, is at last getting into motion. Administrator Hopkins believes that it will not be long before the WPA is providing 3,500,000 jobs, the goal it was designed to reach some time ago. When that time comes, all direct relief will be at once abandoned. At this writing, it has already been abandoned in more than a third of the states.

Under the direct "dole" system, the needy were provided with food, clothing, lodging, fuel and light. Practically the entire load has been carried by the Federal government. Few states have even adequate facilities for aiding unfortunates.

No problem would exist if active employment of 3,500,000 workers meant jobs for all needy. But an additional 1,500,000 or more needy will not be given jobs—because they are unable to work. Therein is one of the most pitiful, most difficult and most burning of problems—a problem which has received much less publicity than it deserves.

Those 1,500,000 unemployables fall into three broad categories—the physically handicapped, dependent children, and the aged and infirm. Work is out of the question for them. Apparently their only hope for the barest of subsistence lies in direct relief from one source or another.

Mr. Hopkins says that if the Federal government is going to provide jobs for those who are able to work, the states should be willing to take care of those who are unable to work. Most states reply that they can't pay the costs. While this futile argument continues, the unemployables can only look forward with fear to oncoming winter.

Plight of these people is shown by a survey made of a number of families in the unemployable classification directly following the elimination of direct relief in a southern city. About one-third of them averaged less than two meals a day. And the report said that the character of their diet was even more important; than reduced food consumption. Such things as fresh meat, bacon, ham, eggs, butter, cheese and milk were practically unknown in the unemployment households.

Congress is planning appropriations for the old, infirm, the dependent young. But those plans are still in the embryo stage—their completion will be impossible for many months. As a result, it seems inevitable that the problem of the unemployables will grow constantly in size during the immediate future.

In the words of one newspaper commentator, "It looks as if December will be a New Deal month in the Nation's highest court." The government as taken steps to push vital cases as fast as possible, in the hope that Supreme Court decisions can be handed down early in January, when Congress convenes again.

One case involves the validity of the Tennessee Valley Authority, whose activities in the field of electrical power production and sales were held unconstitutional by one court, constitutional by the court above it.

Another involves the AAA. Here, too, mixed and opposed lower court decisions have been handed down. Main question is whether or not the AAA's processing tax, with which it pays its benefits to farmers, is legal. If it isn't, the Administration will have to look elsewhere for the money.
