

Texans to Spend Millions in 1936 As Host to U.S.A.

Southwest Empire's Fete of Independence to Center in Dallas

Dallas, Texas.—In 1936 the State of Texas will celebrate the passage of a century since her pioneer settlers won freedom from Mexican rule and established the Republic of Texas, which later became a state.

Throughout the Lone Star State there will be celebrations at places of historic and patriotic interest. The cities and towns which were battle scenes in the Texas Revolution, and communities founded during the exploration and colonization preceding the Republic, will commemorate progress of the only state that existed as an independent republic, prior to its entrance to the Union.

Under the six flags that have flown over Texas soil—those of France, Spain, Mexico, Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States—since 1519, there has been written by men and women, in thought and action, a saga that is truly mighty.

Highlights of the gala and festive celebrations of the Centennial Year will be an event that is in its own right an historic one. It is the Texas Centennial Exposition to open in Dallas on June 6 and continue until November 29.

The Texas celebration represents an investment of more than $20,000,000. The City of Dallas pledged $8,000,000 in cash and property and the $4,000,000 plant of the State Fair of Texas, located within her city limits, will be used as the Exposition grounds. Dallas also pledged $5,500,000 in cash for building her share of the enterprise, $3,500,000 of which was raised by a municipal bond issue and $2,000,000 bonds sold by the Texas Centennial Central Exposition Corporation, comprised of Dallas citizens.

The Texas Legislature appropriated $3,000,000 and the United States Government a like sum.

The Dallas Exposition grounds consist of approximately 200 acres. Exposition buildings and their cost follow:

Texas Hall of State, $1,200,000; Hall of Fine Arts, $550,000; Hall of Varieties, $440,000; Hall of Transportation, $440,000; Hall of Livestock and Animal Husbandry, $300,000; United States Building, $325,000; Hall of Natural History, $250,000; Rural Boys' and Girls' Dormitory, $250,000; Hall of Foods and Beverages, $230,000; Hall of Aquatic Life, $180,000; Hall of Agriculture, $170,000; Hall of Domestic Arts, $75,000; Hall of Horticulture, $75,000.

Band Shell and Pavilion, $50,000; Hall of Negro Life and Culture, $50,000; Radio, Police, Fire Station, Texas Ranger Headquarters and Hospital, $40,000.

Cost of landscaping and paving is estimated at $675,000. In addition, a half-million dollars worth of utility equipment and $350,000 in electrical equipment will be installed.

A million dollar sports plant will enable the Exposition to handle sporting events of all kinds. The grounds already have a $400,000 stadium seating 46,000 people, a horse race track and grandstand costing $300,000, and indoor boxing and wrestling arena costing $100,000 and seating 6,000 persons, a polo field, straightaway and oval running tracks and tracks suitable for automobile or motorcycle races. A standard-sized swimming pool will be constructed for aquatic events.

Main entrance of the Exposition grounds will face the Esplanade of State, 300x1,000 feet, leading to the Texas Hall of State. The esplanade's center will be a reflecting basin 200x700 feet with concealed lighting effects flashing from the pool to adjacent buildings.

The Texas Hall of State, built of native granite, will be 488x258 feet. An 80-foot high center will house the Niche of Heroes, dedicated to illustrious figures of Texas history. The front wings will be devoted to regional rooms, a replica of a Texas mission representing the Hall of 1936. An auditorium in the basement will be used for convention purposes.

Washington Snap-shots

Congressmen who came back to the National Capitol for the new session's work were greeted with talk about a reduction in expenditures. They literally cheered, for those who had paid any attention to fiscal affairs had found some astounding facts.

As the session opened, for instance, the Associated Press calculated that in a little more than two years, the Federal government had spent or loaned $16,000,000,000. Of the loans, a percentage must be considered bad.

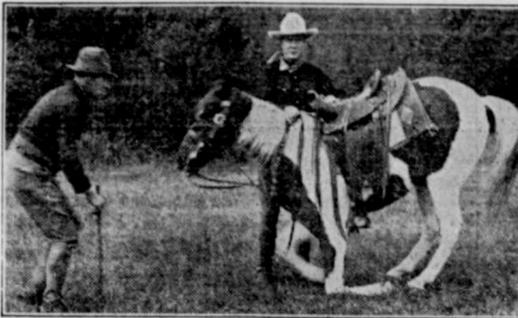

Sixteen billion dollars even in these days isn't a sum within normal human comprehension. So one Southern Congressman went to work with his pencil and translated the total into understandable figures. He found that at the present rate the expenditures ran to nearly $250 a second. In other words, every time the clock ticked, Uncle Sam paid out $250.

But Uncle Sam, this Southerner reminded, didn't have the $250. He actually was taking in only about $125 each second. So with each clock tick he was borrowing another $125. And paying interest on the borrowed money. He now owes nearly $31,000,000,000. Someone has figured out that if $1 had been spent each minute since the birth of Christ the total would not yet be one billion dollars.

The question of where to get the money to pay back that borrowed continued to worry some legislators. The President assured them he would not ask for additional taxes this session. Chairman Harrison of the Senate Finance Committee would say only he was "hopeful" there would "not be any general tax legislation" soon. Harrison left the loophole open for a tax to pay crop benefits.

Even conceding the dubious fact that present tax rates would raise enough money to pay the debt, there was another problem. The depression forced the states and federal governments into overlapping taxes, which hit every man, woman and child in the land. The loaf of bread,

"The Best Trained Horse in Texas"

Captain Leonard Pack, chief of the Texas Ranger force at the Texas Centennial Exposition, puts his famous trained horse, Pinto, through his paces at Kiest Park, on the outskirts of Dallas. Assisting Captain Pack, who for 25 years has been one of the Southwest's best-known peace officers, is Jerry Wolfe, noted rodeo star. Pinto is said to be the best trained horse in the Lone Star State.

for instance, bears 53 taxes. Most states and the Federal government have duplicate gasoline and income levies, not to mention sales taxes. That in itself is an unhealthy situation. But to do anything about it now would mean giving up highly essential revenue.

Also, if conditions continued to improve, the size of taxes paid to the federal government would increase. So, probably, would the cost of living. And when the taxes got big enough to draw real attention from those who paid them, the demand for a reduction would grow. It's quite a quandary.

The Congressmen, incidentally, stepped into a situation that reminded them of how living costs are soaring. The restaurants in Senate and House, where many members eat, boosted the luncheon prices to 50, 60, and 85 cents. Session before last they were 35 and 50.

Maybe because of living costs, maybe because of election year, many members wanted to rush the work through and go home. It was interesting, though, that while Speaker Byrns forecast adjournment by May 1 at the latest, Chairman O'Connor of the House Rules Committee picked the first week in June, and Representative Taylor of Colorado, acting Democratic leader last session, said things would run on until mid-summer.
