

Better Side Of CCC Life

Continuing from where I left off last week, and along the line of "cats" I wish to show both sides of the question for I desire to play the game square with the officers in charge of the various camps.

I spent quite a considerable time in one camp and we nearly always had very good meals, and once during the week were treated to ice cream and cake, also fruit of some kind, oranges, apples or bananas once each day, and nearly every Sunday we had chicken with celery, gravy, mashed potatoes and some kind of jam, and for drink: punch, cocoa or coffee, and other "trimmings".

It was always a question in my mind as to why some camps could feed so well and seemingly keep their mess fund up in good condition while others fed less expensive food supplies and also less as to quantity and at the same time were having trouble as regards their mess fund or keeping out of debt.

Two years ago, or about then and even later at the Headquarters Detachment at the County Fair grounds the meals were exceptionally good and many a man from some other camp eating there would be very generous with his compliments as to the quantity and quality of food served, but of late months the compliments have been very generously voiced by the men who eat there.

The writer ate several meals there in recent months and was greatly disappointed when comparing the present meals with those of the past. Why the great difference, and still the question, why?

The allowance per man is sufficient to feed him well if properly handled, and if the officers who are responsible for the feeding of these men would place themselves in the enlisted man's place there is no doubt in my mind but what many strikes would never have happened and many a disgruntled man would have been more satisfied.

So many of the Camps get their mess fund in bad condition that any Mess Steward who has kept his mess fund out of the "red" has little difficulty in getting a transfer if he will allow himself to be transferred.

I objected at one camp as to the food and it so happened that I could not always be in the Camp at meal time so was informed that if I but make my wishes known to the cooks I could have what I desired to eat.

At this point I wish to state that in some of the Camps a great deal of

Even Texas Dogs Go High-Hat

Down Dallas way even the pups enter into the spirit of the coming Texas Centennial Exposition, which opens there June 6. Here is Bozette, seven-weeks-old, pedigreed Boston Terrier, getting into the spirit of things by using a 10-gallon hat for a kennel.

the fault was with the cooks and not the officers, as many of the cooks were young men out of the city where they have never had any experience and many out of homes where they had never had to rustle a meal for themselves, so preparing a meal for two hundred hungry men is no small task.

In many camps I have seen such bitter feeling between cooks and Mess officers (especially if he be an army man), that it was difficult to run the kitchen.

The main trouble being unreasonableness on the part of both Officer and Cooks—one showing unreasonably and the other resisting that authority.

I would like to commend as well as criticize some of the other officers of the camp. The Camp Doctor is in a position to be of some force or power for good that his influence can not be estimated but so few of them make use of their position.

They very seldom are found giving the proper advice to boys regarding their moral living and very few warnings have I ever heard from them regarding the immoral things so frequently found existing among modern young men. I have in mind one who did enter into the lives of the boys of his camp thoroughly and the boys were loud in their praise for him, but back of all this was, or is the fact that he is a fine Christian man and was not ashamed of his stand before men. I also met up with one Captain of the same calibre, but he was relieved before he had been in the service very long. His influence among his men was great.

Many times have the boys in various camps come to me and in confidence told me of consultations they had held with their Camp Doctor and asked for my opinion concerning some of the so-called "advice" they were given. And I wish I could say something or do something that would put these men to shame for not using every available opportunity to give clean, wholesome information to these boys and lift them onto a higher plane of living instead of allowing them to go on in their dense ignorance or giving them advice that will sooner later lead them into morally depraved lives.

In one camp, I was ordered by the Camp Doctor, who appeared to be very badly "stewed", to get busy and prepare his bath water for him. In closing I will say I told him I thought he was "soaked enough."
