Seniors Sneak Away For Annual Fete

The Senior Class broke loose from school Wednesday to enjoy a picnic at Jackson Creek, and swimming later in the day at Jackson Hot Springs. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ross.

The weather was not very bright but the spirits of the seniors somewhat brightened the day. At noon lunch was eaten at Jackson Creek, after which the class returned to Jackson Hot Springs, where many enjoyed swimming. Supper was served at Jackson Hot Springs, many of the students topping the day off with a show in Medford.

Late in the evening the tired but happy seniors came home having spent a joyous day of freedom from the strenuous duties of the school-room.

To The Teachers

This faculty are my teachers, I shall not pass.

They maketh me to prove dense propositions

They maketh me to expose my ignorance before my class

They maketh me draw figures on the blackboard for my grades sake,

Yea though I study till midnight I shall gain no geometry

The Literature bothers me, the civics sorely troubles me

They prepare quizzes for me in the presence of mine enemies

They giveth me low grades, my work goeth under

Surely zero and condition shall follow me all the days of my life

And I shall dwell in the class with the goats forever.

Good-bye

Joyously we entered,
Merrily we passed
Thru your many doorways
To and from our class.

Cluttering the hallways
Tramping up the stairs
Loitering in the by-ways
Or bumping over chairs.

We seldom felt the frowns
Bestowed upon our backs
Nor knew the many troubles
Caused by our thoughtless acts

We leave you now forever
And realize with a sigh
We'll meet again here never
Our dear old C. P. Hl.

Classes Hold Picnics As School Nears End

Rain was the order of the day for the class swimming parties this year. But nothing daunted, they took their outings at their appointed times and came back with glowing reports of their adventures.

The juniors officially opened the swimming and picnicking season having their annual outing Wednesday, May 13.

The Sophomores had their picnic on Tuesday, May 19.

The freshmen went on Friday, May 22. The Order of the C had a swimming party and picnic on Thursday, May 21.

All the class parties this year were at Jackson Hot Springs. The various advisors Mrs. Skyrman, Mrs. Fleischer, and Mr. Boswell accompanied their groups.

Seniors Appear In Class Day Program

The Senior Class held their annual class day exercises Friday, May 22 in the auditorium.

After much thought it was decided to hold a "funeral service" for the seniors who are about to "pass on".

Ruby Webster started the service by reading the purpose for which the classes were called together.

Ernest Lathrop read the history which was followed by two songs: first a solo by Grace Clifford called "Memories" and a quartette number by Edwin Gebhard, Arlene Thompson, Carol Furry and Roger Yost, called "Horoscope." The prophecy was read by Ernestyn Thompson and "Just Imagine" by Maxine Musty. Last but surely not least was the reading of the will and the presentation of the pennant and the Pointer by Marjorie Jones.

The Senior Class wishes to thank Simon Pappé for the monogram he drew for the pennant.

Ruby Webster Wins Honor Cup

Ruby Webster was the member of the year's graduating class chosen to have her name inscribed on the honor cup. This honor is awarded each year to the boy or girl from the senior class who has been most successful during his or her high school career as judged by the following points:

Participation in student activities 50 points; character a possible 30 points granted by the faculty vote; good fellowship, a possible 20 points granted by a student body vote.

The following members of this year's class were eligible: Carol Furry, Dorothea Hedgpeth, Nellie Grissom, Arlene Inmann, Marjorie Jones, Sidney Thurston and Ruby Webster.

The cup was given to the school in 1922 by Mr. Hedrick, when he was principal here and each year since it has been awarded to an outstanding senior. The awarding of this cup is the highest honor given by this school.

Miss Edna Shaver held open house at her home on Saturday afternoon, May 23, the occasion being a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Geraldine Tex. Both the hostess and the honor guest graduated from Central Point High School in 1934.

Senior Class Will

We, the graduating class of '36 having by one means or another, reached the point where we believe ourselves to be perfect do leave to our inferiors the following:

To the faculty, we hereby do will and bequeath our love of fun and mischief.

To the juniors, we do will and bequeath our ability to run the school, with a little aid from the teachers, and much advice from the freshmen.

To the sophomores, the upper classmen of tomorrow we do will and bequeath our grace and dignity.

To the freshmen, we do will and bequeath our high ideals and good manners.

To the class who will be next years freshmen we leave our best wishes and hope they will love the Central Point high school as we do.

As individuals we do will and bequeath the following—

I, Grace Clifford, do will and bequeath my list of seven subjects to the Lees boys, because between the bunch of them they should be able to get something from them.

I, Clyde Conrad, do will and bequeath my skill at wise cracks to Mrs. Ross.

I, Herbert Crowder, do will and bequeath my many girl friends to Cecil Gantenbein.

I, Floyd Dole, do will and bequeath my boisterous ways to Simon

I, James Fleischer, do will and bequeath my ability to get by to Richard Jewett.

I, Carol Furry, do will and bequeath my "Come-hither" glance to Helen Wright.

I, Edwin Gebhard, having nothing else that I can spare, do will and bequeath my last year's football shoes to Janice Nealon, also leaving the advice that since they are rather worn it would not be advisable to wear them in wet weather.

I, Nellie Grissom, do will and bequeath my sophomore boy friend to Norma Jean Wertz on the condition that she doesn't let anyone else get him.

I, Dorothea Hedgpeth, do will and bequeath my old chewing gum to George Curtright. You will find it under most of the seats in the study hall, George.

I, Arlene Inmann, do will and bequeath my love of catching spiders to Joyce Young.

I, Marjorie Jones, do will and bequeath my power to "knock 'em out" to Roberta Wertz.

I, Ernest Lathrop, with all good intentions, do will and bequeath my old Civics book to my beloved sister Esther.

I, George Merritt, do will and bequeath my broom and dust pan to Norman Hansen.

I, Ruby Brood, do will and bequeath my old affection for Chester Kamburg to Bette Hill.

I, Maxine Musty, do will and bequeath my knowledge of bookkeeping to Mrs. Skyrman, since knowing the rest of it she may be able to do something with it.

I, Arlene Thompson, do will and bequeath my skill at waving hair to anyone who wants to be bothered with waving hair every day and usually oftener.

I, Ernestyn Thompson, do will and bequeath my sense of humor to Letha H., Hazel Stager and Willis Pratt. There is enough and more for all of them.

I, Sidney Thurston, do will and bequeath my mustache to Andrew McAllister.

I, Ruby Webster, do will and bequeath my 75 extra pounds to Max Knadler.

I, Floyd Woolridge, do will and bequeath my skill at eating soup to Miss Schreiber, I can eat 3 dishes of soup once a day, 363 days in the year—I skip Christmas and Thanksgiving.

I, Roger Yost, do will my limousine to my younger brother, Dit.

We, believing ourselves to be in full possession of our wits hereby set our toes and stamps this the 28th day of May.
