THE MOST DANGEROUS PLACES

The most dangerous place you can be in ordinary course of existence is in an automobile. The second most dangerous place is in your home.

These deductions are made from figures recently released by the National Safety Council, covering accident record during 1935, when accidents caused more than 100,000 deaths. Automobiles accounted for 37,000 of the total—an all-time high record—and home accidents for around 31,000.

It is a sad commentary on the habits of the American people that easily avoidable home accidents cause more injuries and deaths than industrial accidents. The average American industry has made astonishing strides in reducing both the frequency and severity of accidents. Part of this achievement followed better guarding of machinery. But the most important cause of the reduction was the instillation of a philosophy of carefulness in the workmen.

At home and on the road, the man who wouldn't think of taking a chance at his work, apparently feels free of such "inhibitions." The driving errors that cause motor accidents are well known. Not so well known are the principal causes of home accidents. Falling out of windows, slipping in the bathtub, falling downstairs, tampering with electrical equipment—these are sources of thousands of deaths and injuries each year.

These figures should make you think—and think more than once. The hospital and the morgue awaits those who are thoughtless, careless and reckless.

PROFLIGATE GOVERNMENT

Here's a comparison that will give you something to think about:
 From the time of President Washington (1789) to the time of President Wilson (1913) the successive Federal congresses appropriated a total of $24,000,000,000. That sum paid all the central government's expenses for the 124 years, including the cost of a number of wars, such as the Civil War, War of 1812 and Spanish American War.

 During the last four years, two congresses have appropriated about $32,500,000,000—eight billion more than was appropriated from the inception of the American government up to the first administration of Wilson.

No one political party can be blamed for this prodigality—both Republicans and Democrats have shown a shameful disregard for the people's money. Nor has the spending trend been confined to the last few years—ever since the World War, the government has shown an accelerating tendency to fatten the budget. Nor can the politicians be blamed to the exclusion of everyone else—a supine and indifferent attitude on the part of the people has given them a free hand with the public's hard-earned dollars.

Build With Your Bonus

Our nation, in its most recent and vigorous activity against the depression, has centered all its interests in its homes . . . your home and the home of your neighbor. New homes, improvements and modernization are on the way, and behind them it mobilizes an impressive force of technicians, artisans and quality materials.

Foremost of all the materials that must be used are lumber and millwork. Upon their quality depends the value, in permanence, beauty and convenience, of all the work you do. Be sure that your home received the quality lumber due it.

YOUR BONUS MONEY will go a long way toward starting a new home, or remodeling an older one. It will pay for a new porch, or a remodeled kitchen, or a modernized attic.
