SAMS VALLEY NOTES

Many of the farmers in the valley are pleased that Old Mother Nature has been on their side by permitting them to put in their hay without rain that would have spoiled the crop.

Virgil Edington, who is working at Sawyer's Bar, spent the week end visiting relatives in this community.

The Ladies' Club met at Mrs. Kinnie's Thursday afternoon. The business meeting was omitted and a very enjoyable time was spent playing games in the shade of several large laurel trees in the front of the yard. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Kinnie and Mrs. McDonough.

Mrs. John Hall spent from Thursday to Saturday visiting relatives of her husband's in Salem and Corvallis. She and Mrs. Lindley of Medford traveled in Mrs. Lindley's car. Mrs. Hall reports a very enjoyable time and a very nice trip, as the scenery at this time of year is so beautiful. She was taken to the poor farm by her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Palmer.

Grange met Saturday night at the school auditorium. Donna Straus and Earl Weaver were elected Lecturer and Secretary in Mrs. E. W. Empey and Elsie Strauss places, who resigned their offices as they are leaving. Mrs. Empey is leaving for Pleasant Hill, and Miss Straus is leaving for Berkeley, California very soon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Halst left Saturday enroute to The Dallas where they will attend the Oregon State Grange meeting. They will travel on to see their daughter and family who live near Seattle before they return home.

Lindsay Huiston of this country left for Fort Klamath Sunday where he will be employed in woods at the Algoma mills.

CLIMAX NEWS

Mr. C. Charley of Brownsboro is repairing fence on his ranch here this week.

The county grader completed the grading of the Antelope Road Thursday and the road is now in excellent condition.

Phil Wertz killed the first rattlesnake of the season last week. Several others have been seen but they moved too swift for the hands of man.

Mrs. Mabel Wertz and daughter, Norma Jean, motored to Medford Friday.

Mr. Sam Harnish, mail carrier made his first trip through to the end of route in his car Thursday. Formerly Phil Wertz carried the mail from the end of the gravel.

Mrs. Meda Comstock and small granddaughter, Jean Mel, returned home Friday from a week's visit with friends and relatives in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Kinney of Ashland and Mr. N. R. Hansen of Central Point were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wertz Sunday.

TABLE ROCK NEWS

Ted Morava of Central Point is shearing the sheep in this district this week.

Mrs. Clyde Briggs is spending this week visiting her daughter Mrs. Mildred Cutler and family at Salem.
