

One-inch Rain Aids Climax Farms

A rain which wet the ground over an inch deep descended on this community Monday and raised the water in the creek to such a level that agrarians were able to irrigate land which they had given up all hope of irrigating the rest of the summer. The rain will also help to provide an abundance of fall pasture.

So. Ore. Soldiers Hold Annual Meet

The Southern Oregon Soldiers and Sailors annual reunion held at the Armory in Medford Friday was a very enjoyable affair. Cyrenus Vroman of Gold Hill was elected new colonel commander. The other new officers are: Lieut. Col. commander, Mary Robbins of Grants Pass, succeeding Elva Lough of Medford; major, J. D. Woods, and chaplain, Emma Gleason, both from Central Point.

Grants Pass was selected as the 1938 meeting place. Seventy delegates had registered by noon, coming from all of southern Oregon south of Roseburg.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Elva Lough Lieut. Col. Commander a verse of America was sung. Captain Durham gave the invocation. Chaplain Fidella Woods reported three vacant chairs she also said that there are now two old soldiers in Ashland 1 in Gold Hill two in Medford and one on the Applegate, and one in Central Point. After a lovely dinner patriotic songs were sung and interesting readings given. Mrs. Mattie Smith of Central Point gave a humorous reading which was enjoyed. Among those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Woods Mesdames Mattie Smith, Emma

Gleason, Ida Henderson, Dora Jones, Iva Hugger, Martha Booth, Virginia Powell, Lorie Minnick, and Sally Musty
