

THE CENTRAL POINT AMERICAN

Re-established, September 13, 1924. Devoted to the best interests of Central Point and vicinity.

Entered as second class matter at the post office, Central Point, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

ARTHUR EDWARD POWELL Editor and Proprietor

COMMUNICATED

Mr. Arthur E. Powell, The American, Central Point, Oregon. Dear Mr. Powell:

Traffic fatalities have been reduced in Oregon. May I take this opportunity to thank you for the splendid cooperation you have accorded this office in connection with our traffic safety program.

Daily we study the statistics and results of this work and I am happy to report that since last June fatalities have been steadily reduced with a total decrease of 46 under the corresponding period of 1936.

Of deepest importance, however, are the records of October showing a saving of 8 lives and the first three weeks of November when 30 lives have been saved over last year.

In other words, on a comparative basis and in view of increased travel on our highways as shown by additional gasoline consumption, we can point to a saving of 38 lives since September 30th.

I am sure you will feel as I do that this record is most encouraging. And it seems to me to demonstrate what can be accomplished with the sincere interest, influence and wholehearted cooperation of the press enlisted in this cause, for I am confident these results are due in a large measure to the splendid attitude and action of editors and publishers in the intense fall campaign.

The generous assistance of the press has been a valuable contribution in arousing public sentiment repeatedly impressing upon the minds of readers the importance of careful driving.

This unselfish service is recognized by those of us working in the field of accident prevention, and on behalf of this program and the Department of State, I wish to extend to you my profound appreciation.

Sincerely yours, EARL SNELL, Secretary of State

WRESTLING NEWS

Mighty little Jimmy Lott of Alabama provided the year's biggest grappling upset last night in the Medford armory when he battled his way to a two-out-of-three fall victory over Hugh Nichols of Tulsa, Okla., former light heavyweight champion of the world.

Nobody in Medford realized until last night just how good the ex-blocking back from Ole' Alabama really is. When he fought his way to a draw two weeks ago with Bobby Chlek, another past light heavyweight champ, local fans sat up and took notice. But still, Lott wasn't honestly in that class, it was believed. Now, however, fans are convinced.

Joe Smolinski and Steve Strellich staged a wild-eyed melee in the middle event with Strellich winning on points after the Polish Palooks had gone berserk in the third round to batter Referee Earl Yoakley and Stelich from pillar to post.

Phil Romano of Mexico City, a full blooded Aztec Indian, used a short-arm scissors in the first and fourth rounds to defeat Popeye Pat O'Brien. O'Brien garnered a fall in the second stanza with a body slam. Romano, making his initial Medford showing, turned out to be a tall, clean grappler with a large variety of scientific holds.
