

Public Relations
By ARCHIE PARKER

YOUR LIFE IS LIKE A RIVER—IT'S NOT ITS LENGTH, BUT ITS PITCH, WIDTH AND DEPTH THAT DETERMINES ITS MAJESTIC POWER; SHALLOW BROOKS ARE NOISY.

HALF-PAY PUDDING

Written by the wife of an army officer in 1858.
"Four ounces of each of the following ingredients, viz., suet, flour, currants, raisins and bread crumbs; two tablespoonfuls of treacle, half pint of milk—all of which must be well mixed together, and boiled in a mould, for four hours. To be served up with wine or brandy sauce, if HALF-PAY permits, from two to three hours, it is an excellent substitute for Christmas plum pudding, at small expense"

The following request was received last week:

Central Point American:
In your column Public Relations, well I wonder if you will do me a favor?

When I was a little girl of ten years I crossed the plains in an emigrant train.

One night around the camp fire I heard a poem read. I only remember four lines of the poem. But I have been trying for years to find the rest of the poem. Here is the lines of the poem I remember.

Along the dreary land-scape
His eyes went to and fro;
The trees all clad in icicles;
The streams that did not flow.

I would be very happy if you could get the rest of the poem for me.

Thank you,
(signed) An Old Timer.
Well bless your heart, Old Timer, I will do my best. But believe me you have handed me a pretty big order, in other words that is a tough nut to crack. But as I said, I will do my best, with the help of the people that read this column. So I am hollering HELP as loud as I can from my readers. If any of you good people know any thing about this poem, will you help The Old Timer and me by sending in the answer to her request? If you can help I will also add my thank you to hers.

The Government is cracking down on the Telegraph and Telephone Co. on the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. Well—well—well. But the Government is not trying to monopolize the farmers by their efforts at crop control, are they? Oh no—NOT MUCH.

FIRE IN THE FOG

The fire siren awoke us Sunday evening at 6:40 from our evening reveries. I rushed to the window and saw a bright glare in the northern sky. I grabbed my coat and cap and headed into the pea-soup fog in the direction of the glowing light. Across the tracks I went puffing like a steam engine. As I neared the fire I saw it came from the flue of the Jacobs residence.

The fire department was already there and had a hose laid. It was not necessary for the water to be turned on. There was a right smart turn out to the flue flame. Congratulations to the boys for their rapid rambling with the fire-buzz-buggy.

Have you gathered up all your last years toys and games and taken them down to the fire hall in Medford for the kiddies? If not—why not? It will come back to you in pleasure if not in pennies.

I was sorry to hear Lee Bishop of KMED put on the spot for his practical joke which he pulled off Saturday.

I like Mr. Bishop as an announcer and I believe I would like him even better as a friend. And I will stand to his back until the microphone caves in.

REMEMBER—A successful business is a failure. If the business allows no time for fun.

MODEL TODDLE

What is a father that is giving his child a darn good spanking? Give up? A rappy, slappy, pappy.

We will have to give my wife credit for that one.

New Piano Store
Opens in Medford

W. P. Brassfield.

The opening of the Brassfield Music Company at 417 East Main, Medford across from the Roxy should be of much benefit to the community. The new firm will handle a complete line of the well known Kimball, Gulbransen, and Whitney pianos. The Wright Music company of Grants Pass will act as branch dealer for the new Medford firm.

Mr. Paul Brassfield who heads the new firm recently came from Portland where he had nine years in piano sales. He has had much experience in piano factories.

Mr. Brassfield will offer to the Rogue River valley people a type of service that will meet the demands of the people in this section.

Mr. Brassfield is a brother of Mrs. Gene Orr of Medford and a son of Mr. B. R. "Buck" Brassfield, Pacific coast representative for the Gulbransen line of pianos who is well known here.

He is a world war veteran and a member of Isis Shrine temple of Salina, Kansas, where his father Buck Brassfield is a past-potentate.

Mrs. Brassfield and two sons Jack and Billy have joined him in Medford and they will establish a permanent residence there.

ON THE WAY

Mr. Sport—I've just inherited another hundred thousand. Don't you think I'm a lucky dog?
Miss Sharp—You'll grow to be one. You've started that way.
