VERSE FOR THE WEEK

The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace.—Ex. 14:14.

Mr. and Mrs. Sunday and family of Lamar, Colorado, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Homer after having taken in the San Francisco Fair. Mr. and Mrs. Homer accompanied them Wednesday morning thru the Willamette valley to Portland and will travel over the Columbia River highway before returning here Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Sunday's eight year old son had the misfortune to break his arm and was unable to travel with them. The doctor think that the jar of traveling might be bad for the break so he is staying at the Homer home during their absence.

Sugar Pine Shakes at Faber's.

Cecil Cochran is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cochran. Mr. Cochran is employed by an oil company in southern California. During his visit here he is enjoying fishing and visiting old friends and relatives. Also he is assisting his father and mother, his mother being ill.

Among those at Diamond Lake for the opening of the fishing season were Professor H. P. Jewett, R. H. Gandee, James Harrison and Robert Webb. They report good catches but rather cold weather. Roads were very good. From various talk going on here and in Medford the fact that Andy Devine and wife of radio fame were at the lake was of as much interest as the fishing to part of the visitors. Mr. and Mrs. Devine were very friendly and chatted with the fishermen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Culbertson with their son Cecil and family and other friends spent Sunday picnicking on Rogue River.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Tex and Postmaster and Mrs. Tom aPnkey motored to Wimer Sunday and brought home some Azaleas both plants and blossoms.

Mrs. J. C. Woods, who has been on the sick list for a number of weeks, is confined to her bed. Mrs. Musty stayed with them Tuesday night and will care for Mr. and Mrs. Woods until other arrangements are made.

Mrs. Clara Farra, who has been suffering from an attack of flu for two weeks, is improving.

The W.R.C. enjoyed a very nice meeting last Saturday. Next meeting will be in honor of those having birthdays in this past quarter. A covered dish luncheon will be served. Every one is to bring a covered dish, except the honor guests. Gold Hill corps has been invited to attend.

Don't fail to stop at the Economy Clothing Shop, 145 N. Front, Medford. Closing out sale on men's suits, coats, women's and children's clothes at very reasonable price.

With the help of some of his neighbors, who presented him with a beautiful birthday cake, John H. McJimsey, one of the best known and liked residents of this city, celebrated his 83rd birthday Tuesday. Mr. McJimsey is one of the few remaining pre-boomday residents of this city, having come here from Indiana in 1899. He spent most of his life setting tile for draining purposes, and says he probably has traveled as far as across the continent on his knees in the bottom of a ditch.

So what?—

Man's capabilities have never been measured; nor are we to judge what he can do by any precedents, so little has been tried.—Thoreau.

John Perl overheard promising certain ladies that his wife would be at a certain tea if he had to break the sprayer. It seemed that his wife might stay at home and spray.

Katherine Fry wishing that she could go on a trip, adding hastily, "to the coast, or somewhere," lest someone remind her of the frequent journeys to Grants Pass.

Ed Vincent seen going into Ethel Beauty shop, for a wave we suppose.

We are told that any one wanting rain notify Bert Hedgepeth and he will dig up the street, which never fails to bring it.

John Ross going fishing and shooting the head off a 14 rattle rattle-snake with a sling shot. He also stood out in front of Ross and Ross and shot the stove pipe on the Peart blacksmith shop. Some shot.

Mr. Moore saying that if the ladies expect him to water the park they would have to furnish a rocking chair, now he says "never mind" I'll just stretch out on one of Perls benches".

George Ford modestly claiming half the credit for the recent million dollar rains, then generously giving the hay farmer the other half.

Joe Collins grinning delightedly on learning that he is the uncle of a brand new baby boy.

Doc Davis' boy setting out to eat all of the ice cream he could hold and discovering that the last portion wasn't nearly as good as the first.

Archie Parker leaning on a hoe handle and gazing skyward, mentally deploring the downright cussedness of Oregon weather in the spring.

Orville Castor daubing pretty pink paint on a green motor boat—the result no doubt will cause the Rogue River fishes to rise up and rebel.

Miss Pastoring, telling a really TRUE fish story amid delighted howls of her listeners. On finding ONE attentive listener, telling the story all over again and receiving the comment, "Well, it was a good story, anyway."

Little Howard Wealty proudly displaying the certificate he earned for writing and looking quite crestfallen when he discovered that his name had been misspelled.

One little girl complaining woe-folly that she hadn't passed and that when she got home would get spanked and wouldn't get any quarter, either, but adding hopefully that Mama was going to see if she couldn't help her out some.

The eighth grade presenting their teacher with a pretty box of candy and finding that the trick wouldn't work at all.

Four of the more stalwart teachers braving the cold of Diamond Lake while angling for the wary trout and coming back to Central Point with fish—and chills which they report they will never get over.

TRADE AT HOME—

Every party living in Central Point should support their home town merchant. Just stop and think about it. If it is a product that you can not buy in Central Point by all means go to Medford for it. We are for Medford 100%. But if you haven't tried to buy what you need in Central Point, try first at home. Count your time and cost of transportation both ways. When you spend a dollar in Central Point it enables the merchant to carry a large line of merchandise and a certain amount of every dollar comes back to Central Point in public improvements, better schools and streets, etc. Aside from the amount they spend on improving their own property, which adds to the value of all property in our town.

Let all work and boost for Central Point. The business men of Central Point are always ready to help everything that is for the betterment of our community. Let us give them our undivided support.

NOTICE

All members of the W.R.C. are requested to meet at the hall Tuesday, May 30 between 9 and 9:30 o'clock to go to the cemetery to decorate the soldier graves.
