Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wheeler returned recently from a trip to Minnesota. They traveled north part way thru Montana, North Dakota, and Minnesota to St. Cloud, Wyatza and St. Paul, back through North Dakota. On their return trip they went up to Atkins in Atkins Co., and saw their old farm at St. Cloud. They visited Mr. Wheeler's mother who is 89 years old, returning home by Livingston. Mr. Wheeler reports that crops look good but lots of vacant land. He also reports that this was his fifth trip he has made thru the middle states. He saw more horses working than ever before. Tractors standing idle, horses shopped in from Canada. The Wheeler lacked just a few miles of traveling 5000 miles.

It is reported that Arnold B. Chert's threshing machine caught fire Wednesday evening while in the Talent district, and damage was done to the amount of $400.

Mrs. Saunderson returned home today. She has been staying with her daughter, Mrs. Marian Roberts for several months. She will be welcomed back by her friends both in and out of the Hatfield Store.

Straw Hats 10c up to 50c at Faber's.

Miss Florence Dellinger, who has had work in Medford and Lyman Johnson, who has been with the Southern By-Products Co. were married Tuesday and left for the Sacramento Valley where Mr. Johnson will install a branch of the By-Products Co. A number of friends received announcements and also pieces of the wedding cake.

The Central Point boys, who are National Guard boys, returned from Camp Clatsop Wednesday noon and report that taking the trip right straight thru they had a very pleasant time.

E. R. Gleason has a little reward for his labor showing up in the first blooms on the Zinnias he planted this spring on the vacant lot next to the Beauty Salon. He was planning to plant more seeds today. These flower beds in the business district add much to the beauty of our town and are a big improvement over lots covered with weeds.

This is the time to re-cover your barn. Sugar Pine shakes at Faber's.

That big fish dinner is slated for tonight. We will tell you all about it next week.

The fire department was called out this morning for a grass fire out by Finley's place, caused when Margaret Finley was burning the waste in the rubbish container.

It is usually not so much the greatness of our trouble as the littleness of our spirit which makes us complain.—Jeremy Taylor.

Arla Hansen and a bevy of Central Point taking greedy advantage of the twin's generosity and devouring the remainder of the bear track while the twin sold a paper.

Brownie Ross carrying a sack of spuds into his place of business— one handed and not looking the least as tho the exertion was too much for him.

Ted Hill explaining the advantages of adhesive tape when one tears one's clothing and is without needles and thread and the necessary ability to manipulate same.

Glen Downing bragging about rising at five o'clock each morning—making people raise their eyebrows—some even going so far as to remark, "Oh yeah?"

Ernie Parker losing a wager on the Lewis-Galento bout the other night and taking it to heart—he feeling very, very deeply on the subject of championship bouts.

Mr. Pankey mistaking a lady's thoughtful demeanor for one of anger—the lady being not the least angry until later on when she discovered there weren't any letters in the box she paid rent on just last month.

One of the Cassman twins eating a bear track (bear paw) Saturday between paper sales.

A certain charming young couple, being so thrilled over coming event that they decided to get their license a month early and requested that it be not published, now must face the music for a whole month.

Mrs. Roberta Andren asking a fellow player at a card party how much a double spread was and was told not to worry as it never happened and, she holding the cards in her hands, which count 1500.

Bruce Field starting for Fish Lake this morning sporting a real cowboy hat.

Everett Faber, wide-awake businessman, coming to work this morning about nine o'clock with his eyes hardly opened. This should call for some explanation.
