COMMUNICATED

To the Editor of "So What":
Yours truly has been greatly chagrined by the fact that he has been accused of high-hatting certain of his friends whom he used to meet on a common level. Not knowing who you refer to as having been passed up, slighted, etc., I am unable to solve the mystery of how this rumor was begun, as I have diligently tried to display my very most pleasant "Good Morning" to all whom I have chanced to meet.

There is one certain lady, however, who used to be a sister in a club which I belong to, commonly known as The Badminton Club, whom I have been unable to speak to for quite some time, due to the fact that the said lady, or badminton sister refuses to be spoken to and as I have had to swallow my pleasant "good morning" just as I was about to utter it as the lady dashed by. Let us turn to the good book of etiquette, which says in part that out of a matter of courtesy, etc., etc. that when a lady and gentleman meet, in order for the gentleman to properly speak to the lady, she must speak to him first. Otherwise he would be very brazen by speaking first and no gentleman wishes to be rude.

I also wish to take this opportunity of saying to you, "How do you do?" in case you may be one of the slighted ones.

May I remain on speaking terms.
