Members Tells Work Of Civic Club

The ladies, interested in a Civic Club, met on March 31st, 1937 at the home of Mrs. Fox to organize a club.

One of the things the Civic Club tried to do was to get people interested in keeping their parking spaces cleared of weeds and plant a few flowers. And I hope we can get people interested in that line again this year.

The Alexander building was purchased for $100.00 for our library. Money was raised by subscriptions, food sales and dinners.

The building was cleaned by the ladies. Mr. Powell, our Mayor, was appointed a committee of one to oversee and purchase all materials needed for the repairing of the building.

Paper & paint was donated and much of the work was donated. After finishing this room we decided to clean the back room and remodel it for a kitchen. We accomplished that mostly by donation of every thing and the ladies all helped in some way. We bought our stove and water tank and our silver and dishes were mostly donated.

We then decided we needed a wood house and the work was all donated and price cut on the lumber.

Ice was kept in our City fountain for two summers, the club helping with the businessmen and the ice company gave us a reduction in their regular price.

The club gave $10.00 to help the city basketball team get their suits this winter.

Our last project was giving the dinner January 23 and turning over the money to the fire department. We made $61.50 which we are very proud of. The firemen helped sell tickets.

This coming year our Civic club would like to be so interesting that all our Central Point ladies will join hands with us to help keep our City free of weeds, also plant flowers in their yards. And most of all set out trees for we all know it is a fact that where there are trees there is more moisture in the ground and every shrub and tree makes some spot attractive.

Civic work is fascinating work where many are interested. The exchanging of shrubs and flowers keep us interested in each other as well as often making new and lasting friends.

Last summer there was no shortage of water here. We had plenty even on the hottest days.

I spoke to our Mayor about giving us more water for our money and it seems our City has bonds to meet in the near future and more water would mean a high electric bill and our city cannot afford that just now.

Our Mayor and City Council have always been very generous and sympathetic and interested in all our projects.

Our drinking fountain needs to be made an attractive place and kept clean.

We have a very nice place for the fountain near an old land mark of lovely roses and an apple tree.

Very near the fountain the ladies have started a croquet ground for the young people or anyone enjoying the same and with a few benches the place would be comfortable for our elderly men. They could sit and chat of their yesterdays, comparing them with the advantages of today and they would like that so much, I am told.

It would be nice to put granite around our water tank where grass is not growing. Our water superintendent, Mr. George Ford, has made many improvements already and plans to make many more, one thing he will do as soon as he can is to drain the water from the low places where water stands during wet weather.

Sometimes it seems progress is very slow but we must not become discouraged and we must all invite our new people, of the city, to join hand with us and perhaps give us new ideas that we would not otherwise think about.

God has lent us the earth for our life, also it belongs as much to those who are to come after us as to us, and it is in our power to bequeath a lasting beauty in trees and shrubs. We have so many natural shrubs in our hills, and trees and shrubs are a nesting place for our song birds. We have enjoyed having so many robins here this winter and we hope they stay this summer. Robins do eat our cherries and strawberries but that is because there is a shortage of wild berries. They also feed on ants, worms and bugs. The robins only does 2 per cent damage and our meadow larks' food consists of insects and 20 per cent of weed seeds.

And I will leave another thought. If everyone interested in our city's welfare would drop the president of the Civic Club a card suggesting some improvement they are interested in and willing to help us accomplish. We might still accomplish more than our wildest dreams have hoped for.
