Salmon run is on! What a strange feeling seems to course up and down my spine as I hear that old annual cry, "The salmon run is on." Old salmon fishermen are now diligently checking up on their salmon poles for any sign of defect; polishing up spoons and checking the strength of the salmon lines. So far the story has come from Grants Pass that three salmon have been caught below Grants Pass. There has been some rumors that salmon are seen to go over the fish ladders at Savage Rapids dam. The heavy rains of last month and the last few days have brought in some huge runs so far.

It will be a matter of a week or ten days before the river clears up enough so the fishermen can hope to get any fish. It is my hope that the river will not clear up too soon because I have noticed in the last few years that when the river gets too clear, the salmon strikes get poor but when the river is milky it seems to be the best time.

I wonder this time who will be the first one to get a salmon this year by the Central Point folks. Last year I had the privilege of being the first one in with the salmon. This year I am going to have my head measured because I believe that I will catch more salmon than anyone else, especially on the early runs, not the late season run.

Ross & Ross have put in a new complete stock of fishing tackle at very reasonable rates and to me some of these tackle are bargains worth-while to have. Whenever you need some tackle you will find them there for Ross & Ross have put in almost everything that you will need to have. And I will think it a darned poor excuse if anyone here go to Medford to buy their tackle when there are complete lines right here in this town.

Al Piche has put on his fourth annual fishing contest at his store in Medford and the prizes that he will give away are very valuable. I am going to enter my biggest fish there too and so that Al will not have to scoff at me as he did when I told him how big mine was last year. If I had entered my fish in Al Piche's contest last year I would have got third prize and got that $9.00 tapered line which would have gone handy with the new fly rod that I won last year in the steelhead derby here. My, what a sap I am.

I wonder if we are going to have a steelhead derby here again. If so, I hope they won't bar me because I think I will get that prize again as I did last year when I told everybody here that I will get that prize all right and feel considerable sorry for those who entered in that contest. Maybe you fishermen will get mad at me and show me real fish (?) and I hope so. The hotter the competition the better luck I will have.

WRESTLING NEWS

LeRoy McGuirk, world's junior heavyweight wrestling champion, won't be here next Monday, after all. Promoter Mack Lillard said today. The champ, in southern California, decided at the last minute to head east instead of coming to the northwest, Lillard explained.

So, for the main event on next week's program, Lillard said he was trying to line up Pete Belcastro and Mr. X for a rematch, and he added he was almost positive the bout could be arranged. Last Monday eve, the masked grappler made short work of Belcastro, ending the fray in under four minutes, and Belcastro is howling for another crack at him.

Open House at Cooksey Motors Is Well Attended

The open house held at the Cooksey Motors Tuesday evening was a big success in every way. The show room was filled with friends anxious to see the new Hudson and its many new outstanding features, as well as the interesting pictures. More chairs were brought in to accommodate the audience and one car on display parked on the street to make more room. Little Miss Stacia Bloomslett, who was called on to help out with the program added to the fun of the evening.

The picture showed a try out for one of the Hudson cars on the Bonneville Salt flats which are smooth and level and 300 miles long and 200 miles wide. On account of the temperature there it is seldom visited by the public. These cars stood the test of twelve days continuous driving making 20,000 miles in the 12 days. One party was heard to remark the next morning "When ready to buy a car I will sure check up on the Hudson."

J. Orbin Cooksey, Hudson Motor Car dealer for Jackson County, located at 132 South Riverside, Medford, is a former Central Point boy and has many friends in this part of the valley.

Keystone Class Holds Enjoyable Party

The Keystone class held their class party Friday evening and had, so we are informed, an uproarious time. Its being Don Stanley's birthday and the class finding it out, the men ganged up on him. Scott Darby called on him for a speech and also they fixed the wiring system on his car so when he tried to start it, it just shot sparks and wouldn't start.
