THIS FLAG OF OURS

In these present days of universal chaos, an ever-increasing number of Americans cling to the flag of this country in the belief that it is the only guarantee of human welfare and human dignity in a world beset by dark and evil forces.

At such a time, it is particularly appropriate to envision what the flag might say to the citizens of the United States if it were suddenly gifted with a voice. A. W. Hawkes, President of Congoleum-Nairn, Inc., did just that recently in the following stirring words, which need no further comment:

"I, as your flag, represent true democracy in the representative form. I am only 163 years old, but before I took form and became a reality, millions of people throughout the world had given up their lives trying to give me birth. . . .

"If you would not fail me, you will preserve me in what I represent for you and those to follow. Your work in preserving me is only the fulfillment of your obligation to principle and justice and those who created me for you. They gave to you, through me, liberty and freedom and the opportunity for individual accomplishment—fair reward for services and the protection of the law in the rightful enjoyment of property legally acquired.

"I leave you with this thought: I, your flag, will mean just what you make me mean. I will stand for you and what you are and what you do. I can be no more and no less than the representative of your character, courage and nobility of purpose. I hope you will never forsake the things I stand for and I hope your acts will enable me always to hold my head high any place on earth, proceeding always in the interest of justice, in the support of the will of God on earth, and in promoting the development of mankind in rightful happiness.

"May you never forget your obligation in return for your privileges—and remember, I SHALL BE WITH YOU ALWAYS, IF YOU MAKE ME STAY."

TANKS AREN'T WHITE RABBITS

As industry continues to do its part in our national defense program, and now that actual production is really under way, there are still Americans who are saying that things are going along too slowly. Very few of these people can have any real knowledge of production problems, but at the same time it is very unfortunate for them to be spreading mistatements of fact at a time when national unity is so badly needed.

They need to be reminded that making armaments is a job of tremendous complexity, and a new one for American manufacturers. New machines, new kinds of materials, skilled men in great numbers, are all required. Innumerable blueprints must be studied, rigorous Army and Navy specifications followed to the letter. It all takes time if you want the job done right.

Just as one example, it is interesting to know that well over a thousand blueprints are needed to make the smallest kind of Army tank. And as one noted industrialist well put it the other day, making a tank is like turning out locomotives with the degree of precision required in making a fine wristlock.

American industry can do the job all right—and it's doing it right now, as fast as government gives the "go ahead" signal. But the people who ask it to turn out armaments the way a magician pulls rabbits out of a high silk hat aren't being any particular help!
