To A Friend

You entered my life in a casual way,
And saw at a glance what I needed.
There were others who passed me or met me each day.

But never a one of them heeded.
But never a one of them heeded.
Perhaps you were thinking of other folks more.

Or chance simply seemed to decree it;

I know there were many such chances before.

But the others—well, they didn't see it.

You said just the thing that I wished you'd say.

And you made me believe that you meant it;

I held up my head in the old gallant way.

And resolved you should never repent it.

There are times when encouragement means such a lot—

And a word is enough to convey it;

There are others who could have as easy as not—

But, just the same, they didn't say it.

There may have been some one who could have done more

To help me along, though I doubt it;

What I needed was cheering, and always before

They had let me plod onward without it.

You helped to refashion the dream of my heart.

And made me turn eagerly to it.

There are others who might have (I question that part)—

But, after all, they didn't do it.

More Facts About Food Stamp Plan

Food Stamps, when the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plan is extended to this country the latter part of January will be handled on a mail order basis according to announcement made by Jack Luhn, chairman of the state public welfare commission and M. Louis Belangie, area director of the Surplus Marketing Administration.

Jackson county is one of many counties in the new Oregon area to receive the stamp plan. All families receiving public assistance will be eligible to purchase food stamps by mail after they have been declared eligible by Mrs. Blanche D. Lyman, county welfare administrator. Records already in the welfare department office permit making up the list of eligibles without requiring personal interview.

"Upon completion of the list of eligibles," declared Mrs. Blanche D. Lyman, "detailed information will be sent each family. How the plan operates, what needs to be done to buy food stamps by mail—all will be carefully explained."

Purpose of the plan is to move over-abundant crops into the homes of under-consuming families. For every dollar worth of orange colored food stamps, good for any and all foods for human consumption, stamp plan participants receive fifty cents free of blue surplus food stamps. The blue stamps are good only to purchase those foods which are designated as "in surplus" by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Stamps are used in the same manner as cash at any food store which wishes to accept stamps. Such stores must be approved by the Surplus Marketing Administration which redeems the stamps for payment to the retailer by the U. S. Treasury. It is found that most retailers turn their stamp cards over to wholesalers as payments on account.

The inauguration of the Food Stamp Plan eliminates direct distribution of surplus commodities through welfare department trucks and depots.

On the surplus food list at the present time are: butter, eggs, raisins, rice, pork lard, pork (to include all pork which is not cooked or packed in glass or metal containers), corn meal, dried prunes, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour and whole wheat (graham) flour, Irish potatoes, fresh oranges, fresh apples, fresh pears, fresh grapefruit, fresh cabbage, and onions (except green onions).

As an after-effect of a serious attack of flu not long ago, the right arm of Mrs. Hazel McCulloch has been almost useless, yet quite painful.

The Extension Unit met with Mrs. George Gilman Tuesday afternoon for the selection of a play the group will put on soon, to raise funds again to send representatives to the Home Ec. conference at Corvallis this spring. Last spring the two women sent brought back such an enthusiastic report that the whole Unit was electrified. Their fare, room, and board was allowed them. This year the plan is to allow them fare by public conveyance that they may have more freedom of movement. Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Frank Croucher will direct the play. It is hoped the attendance to see it will pack the gym. Admission will be popular priced.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Chism spent Tuesday at the Joe Johnson home.
