Records Indicate Increase in Vehicles

Thirty-six years ago, on May 19, 1905, Oregon started registering motor vehicles when the secretary of state issued registration certificate number one to Helms Thompson, of Eugene. At the end of that year, a total of 218 vehicles was registered in this state.

On the 36th anniversary of that date, May 19 of this year, there were 381,150 motor vehicles registered in Oregon and by the end of this year, registration is expected to exceed 425,000, according to Earl Snell.

secretary of state. Registration last year was just 187 vehicles short of 400,000 and to date, the number of vehicles licenses in Oregon is eight percent ahead of the registration for the same date a year ago.

The Oregon legislative assembly of 1905 adopted an act requiring that owners of motor vehicles in this state must register each vehicle with the secretary of state, paying a fee of three dollars. This fee was not an annual license, but was good for an indefinite time. It was not till 1911 that annual registration of motor vehicles was required.

In 1905, the owner received no license plates, but was required to display the number of his certificate on his vehicle. The numerals could be painted on, or the owner could purchase a number plate somewhat similar to the plates now in use. Records of the descriptions filed for automobiles registered during 1905 indicate that many of them were tiller-steered and some even were home made.

There were 32 cars registered the first day the law was operative in Oregon, 12 from Portland, ten from Salem, four from Eugene, three from Grants Pass and one each from Woodburn, Arlington and Silverton.

Oregon at present has 313,859 private vehicles registered, or one such vehicle for every 3.4 persons living in the state. Fees for motor vehicle registrations for the first four months of this year amounted to $2,608,943.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pennel and son Clifford and nephew Morris Pennel and Mr. Benson of Tillamook arrived Wednesday and Clifford left Medford that evening to join the Navy. They were old friends of the Frank Lawrence and enjoyed dinner at the Lawrence home.
