Letters From Our Boys in Service

Ogden, Utah
March 24, 1943

Dear Mrs. Powell:

I want to take this time to thank you for sending me The American. It is really a pleasure to read about the places and people you know. Although I'm not as far from home as a lot of the guys, I miss them just as much.

When I entered the army little did I know that I'd end up learning to repair Searchlights. It is interesting work although it is very complicated.

We are about half through our nine weeks course. I am grateful for the high school education I received at C.P.H.S. Without it I wouldn't be able to understand a thing in these text books of ours.

Like all men in the armed forces I'm anxiously awaiting my first furlough.

Wishing you continued success and thanking you again for the swell paper.

Sincerely
Pvt. Darrell W. Rollis

The nation's highways, too, are doing their part for victory. In addition to the large volume of military traffic, the bus lines carried three-quarters of a billion passengers in 1942—nearly six times the population of the U.S. And still more are riding this year.

These millions are not traveling for scenery or pleasure. Most of them are selectees, military personnel, and war workers. Others are farmers, nurses, teachers—people in nearly every walk of life whose trips in some way or other are essential to the national welfare.

Greyhound is putting all its efforts, experience and resources into helping perform the biggest transportation job of all time. That is why our service to you now cannot always be what we would like to give, or what you have come to expect of Greyhound. We appreciate your patriotic consideration of these conditions created by the war. But when victory is won, travelers will be rewarded. Then you can look to Greyhound for a brand-new chapter in comfortable, convenient, enjoyable highway transportation.

WARTIME TRAVEL SUGGESTIONS

You will help the war effort and have a better trip if you do these things:

1. Consult your Greyhound agent for information and get your ticket in advance.
2. Travel in mid-week rather than on week-ends.
3. Carry as little baggage as possible.
