

Story of First White Bride of Klamath County Is Told

The following is taken from the Herald News printed Nov. 14 in Klamath Falls.

Klamath's first white bride, Mrs. Simpson Wilson, 99, died Sunday in Central Point at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Mary Foster.

Old-timers here, and especially in the Langell valley country, learned with regret of Mrs. Wilson's passing. As Nancy Ellen Hall, she became the bride of Simpson Wilson in the first white marriage solemnized in what is now Klamath county. Excerpts from the History of Klamath County, as given by Mrs. Wilson's daughter, read:

"My parents were married in Linkville, Jackson county, Ore., July 16, 1871. Mr. Meechin, justice of the peace, performed the ceremony. Mother's wedding dress was of blue worsted material. Those present were father's sister, Mary Elizabeth McDonald; mother's sister, Rachel Aylsworth; John Skeene, John Got-brod and John Stevens. No honeymoon; they drove all day by wagon and team from Linkville to their home in Langell valley, eating lunch at the lower gap on Lost River.

"To this union eight children were born, two in Jackson county, one in Lake county, and five in Klamath, all in Langell valley. This paradox, brought about by the changing of county lines (Lake county having been separated from Jackson in 1874, and Klamath from Lake in 1882), was repeated in other pioneer families."

After pioneering in the Langell valley country, the Wilsons moved to Central Point where Mr. Wilson died some 10 years ago. He is credited with carrying the message to Yreka, Calif., when the Indians capitulated at the close of the Modoc war.

Mrs. Mary Wilson Goddard, 1563 Hope, left Monday for Central Point to attend final rites for her mother-in-law.

Mrs. Clara Vincent is leaving to visit her father, Mr. S. C. Collins and her sister, Mrs. Clyde Briggs in Oakland for a couple of weeks.

Our War With Japan

The Sixth War Loan marks a new turn in the war both on the fighting and the home fronts. It points our tremendous war effort definitely in the direction of the Pacific. During the first five war loans Americans were primarily thinking in terms of beating Hitler.

Now our government asks us for a loan of 14 billion more dollars of which five billion dollars must come from individuals. Why? Haven't we nearly finished off our so-called Number 1 Enemy? Can Japan hold up our powerful war machine very long? Your son, brother and friend in his Pacific foxhole wouldn't raise such questions because they are up against realities, not day dreams. They kill or are killed. They pray every waking moment for a sky-darkening cover of friendly planes. They thank America for giving them the finest medical care in the world when their rendezvous with destiny in a Pacific jungle is at hand. They know the war with the Japs is just beginning.

Here are some other Pacific realities so that you will understand why there must be a Sixth War Loan and why it is absolutely necessary that it be a success:

The Allied Military Command has estimated that it will take years, not months, to lick Japan.

Japan's present army numbers about 4,000,000 with 2,000,000 more men available and fit for military service who haven't been called up to date. Another 1,500,000, between the ages of 17 and 20, are not yet subject to the draft.

The Jap Air Force is growing.

In addition to millions of native workers, Japan has a potential slave force of 400,000,000 conquered people. 50% of Japan's labor force is made up of women. Another 25% boys and girls under 20, the balance men. The Jap workday is twelve to sixteen hours with two days off a month. The Jap cannot leave his job, change it, or strike. The highest daily wage equals about three American dollars—30% to 75% of which goes to taxes and compulsory savings.

The Jap, as our men in the Pacific know, will fight to the death. As far as the Jap is concerned, the outer Empire—and the men who defend it—are the expendables. The Jap will fight the Battle from inside the inner Empire.

The Jap believes that we shall weary of war too easily and too early.

In the invasion of France, supply ships had an overnight run to make. In the coming Battle of Japan, ships in the Pacific will have long-reached round trips that often take five months to make.

These realities are worth thinking about before you keep your home front rendezvous with a Victory Volunteer. Perhaps you will feel that the national personal Sixth War Loan objective—purchase of at least one extra $100 War Bond—is entirely too small for you. The better we face the realities confronting our forces in the Pacific the quicker the whole bloody business will be over and the sooner we will welcome home our fighting men. That's an American reality to work for with all our dollars and our sweat.
