Carrying their own weapons of mercy, men of the Army Medical Department (above) give first aid under fire, get the wounded back to evacuation hospitals (right).

Carrying on in mud and jungles and islands of the South Pacific, the Medical Dept. transfers wounded from a landing craft to a waiting Dodge ambulance (below). Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation equipped the corps with their many thousands of these dependable, air conditioned ambulances.

'46 Am. Legion Convention to Medford

American Legion state convention delegates have voted to hold the 1946 state department meeting at Medford.

Other business covered in sessions included election of Neil Morfitt, Astoria, as state department commander and passage of several resolutions. The election was held up a number of hours by heated debate over the resolution supporting peacetime military training. It was finally passed by a majority of 360 to 8.

Other new officers are: Fred Lothrop, department vice commander; Hugh Bowman, Pendleton, national executive committeeman; Thomas D. Toughton, Portland, finance officer; the Rev. John Green, Seaside, chaplain, and Mrs. Earl J. Tempar, Brookings, heads the women's auxiliary. The convention adjourned following installation of officers.

Special Session Grand Chapter To Be Held Soon

Eastern Star members of the valley will be interested in the news that a special session of the Oregon Grand Chapter will be held at the Masonic Temple in Portland, Oct. 1 and 2, according to information received by grand officers here. The usual June meeting was postponed at the request of the Office of Defense Transportation and grand officers who ordinarily would have been installed at that time will take office at the special session.

Of outstanding interest here is the fact that Mrs. Lorena McNair, Alpha chapter, Ashland, will be installed associate grand matron during the session. Mrs. Hazel Graham of Tillamook will be installed grand matron and Sylvan West, Portland, grand patron.

Social affairs being planned are a dance the evening of Sept. 29 in honor of Mrs. Graham and the grand officers' dinner Sunday, Sept. 30.

In addition to Mrs. McNair, those who plan to attend from the valley will be Mrs. Beulah Faber, Nevada chapter, Central Point, who is the present Grand Adah for Oregon, and Mrs. Hope Wood, Reames chapter, Medford, who is grand representative for South Carolina.

It is also expected that the worthy matrons and patrons of all four valley chapters will attend and that the entire group from the four chapters will number 20 or 25 persons.

Mrs. Guy Tex was ill all night Tuesday night with stomach flu but is improving. Her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Toner from Riverside spent a day and a couple of nights with the Texs last week. This was the first time they have seen each other for thirteen years.
