HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By Mickey Camp

Greetings Gates! Let's circulate!—the high school.

Have you got that reserved seat for the Operetta? No? Well, dash right down to Stone's and buy it. They are only sixty cents. Just between us and the gatepost, it's worth three times that much. The girls are rusing around like chickens with their heads off getting their costumes made. (all except on who had a professional make hers.) The boys, with Mr. Meyers' help, have been painting the scenery fast and furiously. They sure have a tough time keeping that house right side up and they're always brushing tulips off on their clothes. Don't forget the date—March 21st. Oh yes, the name is "Kathy."

As I entered the school doors Wednesday morning, girls rushed at me from all directions. "Have you seen those University fellas yet?" I said that I hadn't and immediately rushed to my locker, tossed off my coat, and sped down the hall with my eyes bulged out a foot. I saw that office door was closed and so I started a long five minute wait. The assembly bell rang and I knew the time had come. As the curtain slowly opened, I saw five handsome men. We were informed that the symposium team from the University was going to speak to us concerning the social problems facing our country. They presented the problem of strikes and disputes between the worker and employer and gave their opinions as to the methods of solving the problem. Questions were then asked by the audience and the team answered them. It was all very interesting and I enjoyed the speeches more than looking at the handsome men.

Last week Mrs. Meyer was tearing her hair and walking the floor. This week it's Miss Roshears. You'll understand when I tell you that she's deciding on the cast for the junior play. She was shocked at the hidden talent that bloomed forth at the try-outs. But this is an old story for her and she'll soon be all smiles again. The exact date has not been set for "A Mind of Her Own."

The box social and community party was a huge success. Joyce Currie still can't get over the shock of win-

Don Herold says:

The only reason I get up out of bed each morning is to go to work for my employers.

Therefore I have decided that my employers should pay me from the time I step out of bed in the morning until I go back to bed at night. This is what I call my "bed to bed pay plan." It's like the "portal to portal" idea, only more so.

If I get up out of a nice warm bed, somebody ought to start paying me at that very moment. If I eat to gain strength to work, somebody ought to pay me for that.

Gosh, maybe somebody ought to pay me even for sleeping, since that, too, makes me better able to work.

ning the radio-phonograph combination. Leg Hansen was pretty excited about it, too!

We have heard remarks for and against the radio program last Friday night. First let me remind you that it was the first time most of the participants had ever stepped inside a radio station. Each broadcast will undoubtedly be better than the last, so don't turn the radio off at nine o'clock on Friday evening. Listen to "Pointing the Way" sponsored by the Central Point businessmen over KMED every Friday night from nine to nine-thirty o'clock. Everyone's cooperation is needed to put this thing over.

Baseball practice is well under way. Mr. Meyer, grade school principal and an experienced coach, is getting the boys in good condition and a good season is promised.

"Shag" Lull called a senior class meeting Wednesday morning to plan a class party. We decided to go on a picnic and swim at Jackson Hot Springs immediately after school Monday afternoon.

So many diamonds are flashing around school that it's hard to remember who the lucky "wearers" are. Mary Pence and Doris Parsons have acquired one of those gadgets that bring the "oh's" and "ah's." Miss Wilson and Jeanette Brown have been wearing theirs for some time now. Seen and Heard—Helene Blumenstein trying to decide between Harko, best man always win—Teddy Franks wanting the public to know but those letters come from Hill and NOT Yreka. Pardon me, Teddy, I was mis-informed. Nita Maxey's southern accent is beginning to do its work. Some of the boys just can't resist it. Tommy Rupp sporting a beautiful "shiner." P. E. class he says. Black heads flashing all over school. Black hair that is, not pimples.

That's all for this time. See you next week.
