

Care of Driving Is Asked Due To More Traffic This Summer

Oregon's record traffic flow is expected to reach flood stage in May. It has been revealed by Robert S. Farrell Jr. The average may top 15,000,000 miles a day from May through August.

"The biggest part of the increase will probably come on the main highways," Farrell said. "Inter-city travel is always at the top during vacation months."

He placed great emphasis on the danger of too much speed on the crowded highways. The latest 1947 summary showed four out of five deaths taking place in rural locations, mostly on main arteries. This trend has been growing markedly over a period of years.

"No sensible person will ignore four-to-one odds," Farrell said. "City driving may seem more nerve-racking, but the real danger rides the open road. Death certificates don't lie."

People expecting to drive on their vacations are being asked to check their cars over carefully. The most recent wide-scale inspection showed probably 100,000 faulty cars operating in this state. Brakes and lights topped the hazard list.

HEREFORD ROYALTY ADDED TO OSC BREEDING HEIFERS

Newest "co-ed" to arrive on the Oregon State college campus is Juliana 18th, member of the royal house of Hereford. She came to the animal husbandry department as a gift from the famous Wyoming Hereford ranch at Cheyenne.

Department members say she, along with other high bred stock recently purchased from the Stearns ranch at Prineville and the Hildebrand estate in Kelseyville, Calif., has been added in accordance with the policy of the department to select breeding stock based on capacity to convert economically native feeds, into high quality meat.

Juliana is in calf to WHR Helmsman 3rd, champion at the National Western Livestock show in 1943 and a bull for whom his owners refused $100,000 recently.

Former "devil dogs" Asked for Informations

Former "devil dogs" of the famous second marine division are asked to give their whereabouts and other information in connection with a history to be published covering events of this fighting unit in the late war. George E. Sandy, director of the Oregon Department of Veterans Affairs, disclosed this week.

A letter to the Oregon veterans' department from Marine corps headquarters in Washington said the history will be distributed free to all personnel who were members of the division between January 4, 1942, and September 2, 1945.

All such former members were asked to submit to the Second Marine Division History Board, Room 2120, Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps, Washington 25, D.C., the following information:

Name, rank and serial number; present address; inclusive dates of their service with the division; unit within the division to which they were attached; and specific incidents or actions which they believe should be included in the history when published.

D. M. Shop, colonel, U. S. Marine corps, is president of the board compiling the history.
