

Plans

Plans are going ahead rapidly for the great Community Christmas party to be given on the evening of December 22nd at the American Legion hall. Various committees are working hard to get everything ready for the occasion. A more detailed report of the plans will be given next week.

Mr. C. K. Buckman is still confined to the Community hospital, in Medford, and is still not able to come home. However seems slightly improved. He appreciates each and every card he receives from his many friends.

City Councilmen at their last meeting had a long discussion with the businessmen concerning a proposed business license. They postponed action until a meeting which is subject to call later this month. A fee of $10.00 to $20.00 has been considered, Attorney O. H. Bengtson said.

How to Prepare Holly for Shipment

An easy-to-mix hormone solution used as a dip will prevent leaves from falling off holly boughs shipped for Christmas decorations, reminds R. Ralph Clark, O.S.C. extension horticulture specialist.

Shipping undipped holly is frequently a source of disappointment, the specialist adds, because, more often than not, it will arrive at its destination with leaves separated from the stems.

The hormone, sold as a powder by feed and seed dealers and handlers of commercial spray materials, is mixed with water to form the dip solution. Recommended dip solution depends upon the brand used. In any event, it will be three times the recommended rate for preventing apple crop.

Another source of rapid holly leaf loss occurs when fresh cut boughs are stored or displayed near ripening apples or pears. Both fruits, the specialist explains, give off ethylene gas as they ripen, and this gas hastens loosening of the leaves. Complete leaf loss may take place in three or four days when boughs are exposed to even comparatively low ethylene gas concentrations.

Where small quantities of holly are to be treated, dipping can be most easily accomplished using a kitchen sink and drainboard. Treat soon after cutting. Best method, Clark states, is to use a wire basket and a larger bucket or tub. Dip the holly laden basket just long enough to wet thoroughly the holly, allow the excess solution to drain off.

Pack holly for shipment while it is still moist. Best results are obtained when moisture-proof cartons sealed with gummed tape are used. Holly keeps longer when stored at a temperature under 40 degrees.

Gas or oil-furnace fumes will also affect the rate of holly leaf fall in many homes, Clark warns.
