Spring sports will start in earnest this week in Central Point with the High School baseball team opening their home season this Friday afternoon when they meet Kerby on the local field. The following day the Red Raiders from Southern Oregon College tangle with Chico State College from Chico, California in a double header to be played on the local field. The first game starts at 1:00 P.M.

Sunday the Central Point Studs are billed to meet the Rogue River nine at 2:30 P.M., thus opening the spring sport season locally with four baseball games in three days. Sport fans are reminded to attend as many of these games as possible.

Through the efforts of the Central Point Athletic Association, this year as many baseball games as possible will be brought to Central Point. The Athletic Association is sponsoring the Central Point Millers in the Rogue River Valley League and also the Central Point Studs in the fast semi-pro Southern Oregon Baseball League. These two teams will insure to the fans of Central Point and vicinity a ball game at home every Sunday this spring and summer. The fans are urged to support these two teams as each will make a good showing in their respective league. This column will from week to week acquaint the fans with every player on each team, giving their playing history and records.
