G.A.A. Sponsors Invitational Playday

The G.A.A. is sponsoring a softball playday for girls, to be held Saturday, May 20, on the grade school field. Gold Hill, Eagle Point and Jacksonville have been invited as guests for the occasion, and each will bring 18 girls to participate. Awards will be presented for first, second, and third places, and personal identification cards to be worn during the day will be presented to all the girls.

Lunch will be served in the grade school cafeteria, which is being planned by the committee—Mary Johnson, chairman, Loretta Anderson, Marcella Taylor, and Johnny Wolfolk.

Awards are being made by Charlene Croucher, chairman, and Lois Howsley, Betty Blackwood, and Pat Lull.

Invitations were sent to the guest schools by Suzi Culbertson, and Colleen Reinger.

Program of the day's events was mapped out by Jean Hamilton, chairman, and Dorothy Thumler. Pat Flaherty and Miss Anderson, G.A.A. advisor.

Order of "C" Hold Dance

A hard-time dance, sponsored by the Order of "C", will be held Friday, June 2 in the high school gymnasium.

A general committee is composed of Frank Meadows, Les Findley, Leo Cellura, and Tom Rupp.

A king and queen will be elected from each class to be voted on at the dance. The king and queen with the most votes will reign over the affair.

BUILDING HUMAN HABITS

By Pleasant Herbert Lawton

This is the reprint of the poem as there were mistakes made in last week's issue.

Coral Polyps build until their work has crowned the sea.
As they make broad foundations for their structures, so should we make foundations broad enough to crown eternity.

Building human habits is a most important thing.
Requiring every effort that the human mind can bring.

To bear upon the subject, when the mind is in its Spring.

The younger you can start a line of habits good for you,
The broader will foundations be when structures rise to view,
Because you build foundations broad, your life will be more true.

To wait until Old Satan lends a hand to shape your life,
Means a harder, longer battle if you want to win the strife;
And if you lose, your heart will feel remorse cut like a knife.

So don't, Dear Friend, neglect to watch each thot and act away;
Like Coral Polyps, tho so small, they're building every day.
As God is love, you can't go wrong if you have learned to pray.
