Mr. and Mrs. Chas Cummins have bought the Shirley Kelly property at the intersection of second and third streets through the Guy Tex Agency. They took possession last Saturday and are getting nicely settled in their new home. They have one son, who is in the first grade.

Mr. Franklin Gebhard has arrived home after his discharge from the Navy. He has spent the past year in Yokosuka, Japan. He expects to re-enter the orchard and dairy business with his father, Walter J. Gebhart and his brother, Edwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Seavey expect to leave Central Point within the next two months to return to their former home, Olympia, Washington. Mr. Seavey built their home here in Central Point on Manzanita Street and lately has been associated with Mr. Newson Meade in building a house to sell. They now have their home up for sale, too.

Mr. and Mrs. John Catey spent several days this week in Medford visiting at the home of their son, Harold and looking after business.

Mr. Robert Kincaid is returning to duty after spending the holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kincaid. He is being sent to Austin, Texas. He has just returned recently after a period of three years overseas.

Mrs. E. E. Scott is spending the week in Medford at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Swain. Mrs. Swain is working in a law office for a short period of time and Mrs. Scott is helping in managing the Swains Auto Court.

Pretty girls needn't know too much.

Peavy Memorial Fund Proposed by Foresters

Oregon State College—Friends and associates of the late George W. Peavy, dean of the Oregon State college school of forestry from 1910 to 1934 and president of OSC from 1934 to 1940, are collecting funds for a Peavy Memorial fund.

Proceeds will be used to establish a student loan fund at OSC for the benefit of undergraduate forestry students.

Peavy established the school of forestry at the College in 1910 and became widely known throughout forestry ranks for his lifetime of service to the forestry profession. After his retirement from college work, he continued as a leader in civic life and was mayor of Corvallis when he died June 24, 1951, at the age of 81 years.

Descriptive material on the proposed memorial fund may be obtained from Ray Yoder, OSC school of forestry alumni association at Oregon State college.

Notes and Comments

There are only about 348 days left before Christmas.

There are not enough people who can disagree and smile about it.

The bright sayings attributed to babies are usually what mother thinks up after junior has gone to sleep.

What's become of that friend who borrowed a few dollars from you a month or so ago?

The older one grows the better and happier life should be. If this is not the case with you, perhaps you should check on yourself and see what the trouble is.

Whatever happened to those people who were buying fountain pens which wrote under water? Two of the disadvantages which bobbed up in this situation were: Paper didn't improve in quality when under water, and the writer was continuously irritated by the necessity of getting into water to use the pen.

BUGLERS REPLACE BELLS—

Coral Gables, Fla.—When fire damaged the bell system of the Ponce de Leon Junior High School, authorities "drafted" four young students from the school band. Every 45 minutes Bob Staver, Jim Crowder, Rudy Eskman and Dennis Jarvis blew their bugles to signal time for class changes.

HERO AT 15, REJOINS—

Detroit, Mich.—Using a false birth certificate, Leslie T. May enlisted in the Army in 1948. By the time he was 15, he was a corporal and in combat at Kaesong in Korea. He was wounded and won the Silver Star. His elder brother obtained his release a year ago but Leslie has not been happy since. Reaching 17 last month, he reenlisted on the second leg of what he's planning as a 20-year hitch in the Army.

Mr. Earl Willfang will begin his duties next Sunday, Jan. 13th, as minister of the Pentecostal church of this city. Mr. Willfang comes here from Greenfield, California.
