

Billy Abbott Chairman For Dean Memorial Fund Drive in City

C. W. "Billy" Abbott announced this week that he has been asked to take charge of the distribution of shares in the Tubby Dean Memorial Fund in Central Point.

Mr. Abbott stated that the shares will sell for one dollar each which entitles the holder a share in the Memorial score board dedicated to Tubby Dean and also admission to the big basketball extravaganza to be held at the Medford High School on March 26.

Mr. Dean, who devoted a great deal of his time to the welfare of youth activities in the valley, was also active in the promotion of athletic events in Jackson County.

Tubby Dean had many friends in Central Point and it is hoped that these friends will purchase the shares and attend the Memorial game.

The following merchants are assisting with the distribution of the shares and tickets may be purchased from them: John Cupp, Cupp's Furniture store; Joe & Richard Krupp, Krupp's Associated Service; Billy Abbott, Billy's Drive In; Ed Colpitts, Pioneer club; Paul Hopkins, Corner Club; Don Faber, Faber's Market; Don Burelson, Burelson's Burelson's Dept. Store; Ken Wald, Valley Billiards; Steve Benston, Valley's Barber shop; Ted McCoy & Ken Williams, Union 76 Station.

Drop in today and purchase your ticket at one of these firms and get your name in the corner stone of the Tubby Dean Memorial.

Well Known Lady To Run As Candidate for Delegate at Large

Friends of Lesley (Mrs. E.) Miller of Gearhart will be interested to know that she is a candidate for Delegate at Large to the Republican National Convention. Mrs. Miller is well known throughout the state for her work with PTA, Girl Scouting, Red Cross and the League of Women Voters. According to Mrs. Miller she is entering the race because she believes a two-party system is essential to a successful democracy and because she believes our country needs a house-cleaning and a wise, efficient president who is aware of world conditions. Her slogan is "Eisenhower: a proven administrator, a soldier who hates war, a Republican who can be elected."

An Oregonian, Mrs. Miller is the widow of the late Chas. E. Miller, pioneer Oregon lumberman, and is the mother of Mrs. Roy C. Cummins of Roseburg, Jessie D. Miller of Gearhart and Chas. E. Miller, Jr. of Vancouver, Washington. She is the sister of the late Lloyd R. Smith, former Commissioner of Corporations for the State of Oregon and a past state treasurer of the Republican State Central Committee. She has served on the school boards and the city council of Gearhart; was the first president of the League of Women Voters of Clatsop County; member of the Public Welfare Commission as appointed by Governor and originator of the Clatsop County PTA. Members of her election committee are Dr. T. Rex Baldwin of Clatsop county, Mrs. Wm. Kietzer of Multnomah county and John Todd of Douglas county.

While an Eisenhower supporter, Mrs. Miller states that if elected she will use her best efforts to obtain the nomination of Oregon's choice as indicated by the voter.

HONEST WOMAN—

Richmond, Wash.—While walking in front of a theatre, Mrs. F. O. Perkins saw a fairly well-upholstered money bag. Opening it, she found $6,955 in currency and change. She called police. Later, a vending-machine company operator claimed it and said the contents were intact, right down to the last cent.

NOT WORRIED BY THEFT

Miami, Fla.—Victor Cascarano is not too worried about the loot that was taken from his home recently—he believes it will come back. Thieves stole 22 homing pigeons, worth $200.

SAME FACE—

Washington, D.C.—While watching television in her home in Arlington, Va., Mrs. H. H. Knowles heard the announcer say, "Study this face on your television screen, because this man is wanted for investigation of housekeeping." Then Mrs. Knowles answered a knock at her front door. She walked over and looked through the peephole. Sure enough, it was the same face. She called police but the man had fled.

Knowledge is Power

1. HOW MANY PERSONS DRAFTED OUR CONSTITUTION?

2. WHERE IS THE WORLD'S LARGEST ANIMAL GRAVEYARD?

3. WHO IS CALLED THE "GREATEST HOCKEY PLAYER?"

(1.) Only 55 individuals drafted the famous document in May, 1787, at Philadelphia. James Keller cites this fact in his book, "Government Is Your Business," to show how important the work of a few people can be in working toward good government.

(2.) Near Clovis, New Mexico, explorers have found a layer of bones a yard deep which extends over an area of almost three square miles. The bones are those of bison, horses, camels, mammoths, and mastodons of 10,000 years ago. Frank C. Hibben writes about the mammoths and the primitive men who hunted them in his article in "Outdoor Life."

(3.) Eddie Shore, says Ed Fitzgerald in "Twelve More Sport

Immortals" edited by Ernest V. Heyn. In 19 years of professional hockey Shore had 978 stitches taken in some 80 wounds, and suffered numerous fractures. He won the Hart trophy as the most valuable player in the National Hockey League and was picked for the league's all-star team four times. He now owns and manages the Springfield (Mass.) Indians team and teaches hockey to the kids of that city.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON

Harris Ellsworth, M. C.
4th District, Oregon

Perhaps the real reason why so many votes were cast in favor of sending the Universal Military Training bill back to committee was the parliamentary situation which developed on the floor. A substitute proposal, having to do with military training for high school boys, was adopted in the Committee of the Whole and the bill came to final passage in that form. When this amendment in the nature of a substitute was rejected by a House roll call that left final action on the original UMT bill, reported by the committee, without any amendment whatever. Had several amendments, which were to be offered, been in the bill on final passage it would have been generally more acceptable since those amendments would have made the plan more in line with what most supporters of UMT wanted.

The rules of the House are a bit inflexible regarding an amendment in the nature of a substitute which is approved in what is called the Committee of the Whole. This subject is a bit technical for full discussion here except to say that when a substitute is passed all action on the original bill ends. That is what happened to the UMT bill in the Committee of the Whole.

I made a flying trip out to Oregon to speak at a banquet in Portland Saturday night (March 1). Since I wanted to talk with the Army Engineers there regarding several projects including maintenance work on the harbor at Bandon, completion of the Amazon Creek drainage in Eugene, possibilities of opening the mouth of the Chetco, and to get a progress report on the Willamette Basin flood control work. I stayed over Monday in Portland and took the plane out that night. Then my troubles began. The second leg of the trip to Washington, D.C., which would have landed me here at 10:30 Tuesday morning in ample time to be on the floor when the House convened, was cancelled in Denver. Then I boarded a plane scheduled to arrive here at 12:30—still in time. This flight also was cancelled, this time in Chicago where we landed in a blizzard. There was nothing to do then but take the night train, which I did and arrived here Wednesday morning, only to find that the final action on the UMT bill had been taken—and this was not expected until Thursday! The only bright spot in this whole sad story is that a "live" pair was arranged with Congressman Herlong of Florida for me. He would have voted against sending the bill back to committee, I would have voted for returning it to committee—so our two votes cancelled out.

When I was in the District last December, I received information concerning what appeared to be improper handling of the sale of Indian lands by Indian Bureau officials. Since that time I have been gathering information concerning this matter and now have facts on a number of cases. Recent stories in the Oregon press developed rather fully the details on one case. It seems to me that not only have officials responsible for handling such sales been negligent, but it may be necessary to amend existing law to insure the performance of the public trust by the Indian Bureau.

Indian lands involved were held by the government in trust for the Indian owners who are wards of the government. The obligation of guardianship on the government requires that the Indians get the fair market value of their lands. Obviously this has not been done. It may be necessary to have the House Interior sub-committee on Indian Affairs investigate this matter and make recommendations to the Congress for changes in the law.
