THEY WERE WISER IN 1788

As the old adage says, history has a habit of repeating itself. The following quotation is an interesting example of that truism: "It has been found by experience that limitation in the price of commodities is not only ineffective for the purpose proposed, but likewise productive of very evil consequences, to the great detriment of the public service and the grievous oppression of individuals."

Save for a slight archaism in the language, that could have been written today. Actually, it is a resolution which has passed by the Continental Congress way back in 1788—a period when Americans valued liberty above all else, and held fast to the philosophy that government is best which governs least.

When will our modern Congresses show a little of the wisdom displayed by the Continental Congress?

OLE BULL'S AMERICA

Few younger generation Americans are familiar with the name of the great Norwegian violinist, Ole Bull. His love of American ideals of freedom which inspired a mass migration of his countrymen to the United States, won him a place in history that may be remembered longer than his musical genius.

Ole Bull was born in Norway in 1810. He first came to America in 1843 and was so enraptured with the new land of freedom that he soon became an American citizen. He returned repeatedly to Norway, which was subject to the Swedish king, in an attempt to inspire his homeland with the spirit of freedom that pervaded his newly adopted country. Finally, discouraged with the possibility of reviving his own native land, he conceived the idea of moving Norwegians to America, and he purchased 11,400 acres in Potter County, Pennsylvania, for New Norway. His address of welcome to arriving Norwegian settlers 100 years ago is a stirring message that may well be taken to heart today. He recalled for his listeners early Norwegian expeditions to the shores of America nearly a thousand years before, and said:

"But since then we learned . . . one of the great nations of the earth had been successful in planting colonies there. That these colonies had grown and flourished, and that, when the mother country had endeavored to impose tyrannical laws upon them, they had rebelled, and standing up boldly in the presence of mankind had declared before Almighty God, that they were free and independent—that they had been successful and had established a government with a written constitution, based upon the principles of justice and the eternal rights of humanity, that they had spread over almost the entire continent, and had become one of the leading nations of the earth, and that there a home could be found for all who sought it, that the right to labor for ourselves would not be denied us, and that our 'inalienable rights' of 'life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness' would be secured to us.

"Overjoyed with the light and hope which this news gave us, we have sought this country to be partakers in this liberty, to enjoy this freedom, and here in this beautiful valley we have selected our home."

Can we honestly say we are preserving Ole Bull's America today?

Economic Highlights

"President Truman is in high spirits as he looks ahead to the campaign," says U.S. News and World Report. "He expects a Democrat to live in the White House for the next four years after January, 1953, despite the Republican nomination of Dwight D. Eisenhower. Mr. Truman is putting his faith in an election formula that has brought victory to the Democrats regularly for 20 years."

This will come as something of a shock to those optimists who believe that General Eisenhower's personal appeal and prestige, plus widespread criticism of the Administration on grounds ranging from corruption in high places to the handling of the Korean War, make the GOP a cinch after 20 long, hungry years. Yet Mr. Truman is no wishful thinker, and his confidence is based upon hard political precedents and realities.

U.S. News breaks the President's strategy down in this wise. First of all, he plans on holding 69 electoral votes in the South, while regarding it as possible that the Republicans may pick up the other 59.

Then, the formula provides for concentrating hard on the big-city vote, where labor and minority groups have a major voice. In a number of the states which are most important from the standpoint of electoral votes, one or two big cities usually decide the issue. Examples are New York City in New York; Los Angeles and San Francisco in California; Boston in Massachusetts; Chicago in Illinois.

As U.S. News observes, the Democrats have been doing extraordinarily well in the cities. There are 106 cities with a population in excess of 100,000. In 1932 and again in 1948 the Democrats carried all but 15 of them. In 1936 there was really a debacle—the Republicans carried only two. They got nine in 1940 and 10 in 1944.

According to U.S. News, Mr. Truman believes that his formula will give the Democrats 199 electoral votes in the North. With the anticipated "sure-thing" Southern votes, the total becomes 268—two more than is needed to win.

Like all formulas and stratagema, this one could prove to be a total bust. The events of 1932 or 1940 or any other year will not necessarily be repeated in 1952. But the foregoing shows why the Democrats are entitled to some measure of optimism. To quote U.S. News again, "The Democrats have money, jobs, a strong organization, and a foothold in the White House. Mr. Truman is confident he has a winning formula that will keep them there."

This also shows what General Eisenhower and the GOP organization are up against. Their hope is to get most of the farm vote, and to crack the South to some extent. Then, as they well know, they must make a big dent in the metropolitan vote that has been going to the Democrats with clockwork regularity. Eisenhower strategists show a confidence they can do this. This time, they think, they've got the candidate and the issues.

Nobody who is well-versed in politics expects a walkover for either party. As the ending campaign can be envisaged now, it will be exceedingly hard fought, and the decision may be an extremely close one, hinging on what happens in two or three states. Both organizations are girding for all-out, no-holds-barred battle.

A FOUR-FOOTED FRIEND in a foreign land lends aid to the U. S. Marines. This is a picture which could have been taken almost anywhere and almost any time in the past ten years . . . there may very well be others like it taken in the next ten years . . . or more.

For in a time of unrest such as this, our country must be alert on many fronts—to keep the restless peace. This takes strength. Strength in manpower, strength in our national economy, represented by YOU!

For you are an important part of our country's economy. When you have a sturdy backlog of savings you are secure—and so is your country. And one of the best ways for you to build up and keep such security is by buying United States Defense Bonds—regularly. Your bonds and other forms of saving make you a solid, dependable citizen of an economically strong nation. And peace is only for the strong!

Buy Defense Bonds today . . . and buy them regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Strengthen your own future and that of your country by saving your money through bonds.

HERE'S HOW E BONDS NOW EARN MORE MONEY FOR YOU!

Now safe, sure U. S. Series E Defense Bonds pay an even better return than ever before . . . thanks to 3 brand-new money-earning features just announced by the U. S. Treasury.

1. Now every Series E Bond you buy begins earning interest after only 6 months. It earns 3%, compounded semiannually, when held to maturity. It reaches full maturity value earlier (9 years 8 months) and the interest it pays is now bigger at the start!
2. Every Series E Bond you own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date—without your lifting a finger!
3. During the 10-year extension period, every unmaturing bond earns at the new, higher interest (average 3% compounded semiannually). Your original $18.75 can now repay you $33.67. $37.50 pays back $67.34. And so on.

Start now! Invest more savings in better-paying Series E Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

Peace is for the strong . . . for peace and prosperity save with U. S. Defense Bonds!
