CENTRAL POINT, OREGON, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1952

NUMBER 7

Ye Editor Says--

Do you know that the Republicans really are not responsible for such a staggering vote given to our newly elected President of United States? Some credits should be given to an awful lot of Democrats that voted for Eisenhower. And also those independent voters. There are an awful lot of old time Democrats in this country that refused to be classed with those present-day Democrats, more popularly called as New Dealers.

Those independent voters are really the ones who decide the fates of either the Democrats or the Republicans. So it is up to the Republicans to do a good job of government running for the next four years if they wish to win the confidences of those independent voters.

The only thing that puzzles me is that how can those independent voters stomach the actions of Senator Wayne Morse now after he has declared himself an independent man.

The first thing he did upon the completion of the election was to send a message of congratulations to Adlai Stevenson and refuse to send one message of congratulation to Eisenhower. He states that he will not be a hypocrite by sending a message of congratulations to Ike. I am awful glad he brought that word up for this word exactly fits him because he has not lived up to the standards of Republicanism that he has promised when elected as Senator from the state of Oregon.

The second thing—the worst of all the things he has done or said so—he said that Ike and Nixon fooled the people of the United States of America with the result that the Republican party won the election. Well, well, is that how he fools us when he first ran as a candidate on the Republican platform as U. S. Senator from Oregon and boy, I say how he so badly fooled us poor ignorant voters by his lying and breaking the promise as a Republican bearer.

I can remember lots of those high class words of promises that he made to us the first year he was elected and also on the second term. But I did not vote for him on the second term because I was getting wary of him because of his labor stand and the way he voted. But he won the second term because he fooled the other voters too.

For the good of the Republicans and also the Democrats, I believe that Senator Wayne Morse should resign and give those senators a chance to cooperate which we are going to need badly for the next four years.

Then in 1956 Wayne Morse can run as an independent candidate for U. S. Senator if he wants to, and that will be a fair and square thing to do.
