Lad Loses Horse In Table Rock

TABLE ROCK—The first tragedy among the horse population here occurred Thursday when the horse named, Prince, belonging to Joe Stalling, died suddenly. It was a harsh blow to a little boy who had wished for a horse so long and had him for such a short time. Sorry Joe.

Last week's paper had our column pretty badly muddled. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brewer of Roseburg were visiting the Vanderpools and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hamilton, son, Ernest, and Grandpa E. C. Hamilton spent the day at the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Robinson and two children, New Mexico, have moved into a home on the M. H. Goodlin farm.

At last, Mrs. Timm, local air warden, reported the private telephone for the "flash" is in working order and there will be no more interruptions on line 82. She says she has been very sorry to have to break into so many conversations and hopes the people will realize it was not her wish but her job. Your reporter is on line 82 and thinks she has been very considerate in her interruptions, often waiting for the call to end if it didn't last too long.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shores and two children, Rosewell, New Mexico, are staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Shores, on Pumice Lane. A former sergeant in the air force, Shores is now employed by the American Biscuit Co. of Tacoma, Wash.

Several from Table Rock attended the chicken dinner in Sams Valley. It was a very good cause (for the church building fund) and a very good dinner.

Word has been received here that Carl Quackenbush, who was reared in Table Rock, has had a heart attack and is in the hospital. As yet he can receive no visitors, but cards would probably cheer him.

The Ed Taylor and Everett Brown families are now enjoying television with new sets.

Dr. and Mrs. Dierdorff and family were guests at a potluck dinner held at the Robert Sage home Sunday.

The seventh graders, Linda Doran, Glenna Brown, Mark Bishop, Byron Rominger and Jimmy Shope, and our eighth graders, Janet Kilbourne and Billy Hubbard, attended the junior high skating party at Grants Pass Monday evening.

Voting will be held Tuesday, November 2, at the school house. Be an American and vote.

The business organization of Gold Hill gave their annual Halloween party for the teachers. Robert Sage attended.

A birthday party was held for Penny Sage Friday night and her cousin, Candy Bishop, was an overnight guest.

While in Medford Saturday, the steering gear broke on Mrs. Ray Doran's car, luckily near an open garage. She hitched a ride home with her neighbor, Emmett Nealon.

Arthur Myers was a dinner guest Sunday at Frank Myers home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vanderpool and son, Billy, were visitors at the Modoc Orchards Saturday evening.

Milford Vanderpool found a shotgun while hunting ducks near Keno last weekend.

Mrs. Joyce Robinson and two sons have moved into their home on the Russell farm and she expects her husband to leave his base in Florida by Sunday, as this is his final week with the U. S. Air Force. He plans to work with his father on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ryan have a new baby girl born Monday, October 25. She weighed seven pounds and one ounce. The Ryans have three boys so this little miss is very welcome. To date, they expect to all her Jan.

Explorer Post Scouts Plan First Aid Course

Members of Central Point Explorer Post No. 40 decided at a recent meeting to take the American Red Cross course in first aid.

Classes will begin as soon as an approved instructor has been obtained.

All boys 14 to 21 years of age who are interested in joining the local Explorer Post are invited to attend this course. They are urged to contact an Explorer Scout or the post advisor Sterling Tucker, immediately.

HOME FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Curry returned last Thursday from a two weeks vacation visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Ada Clayton, in Spokane, Wash., and other relatives and friends in Burns.

Personals

Supt. H. P. Jewett, accompanied by Mrs. Jewett, will leave Friday for Portland where he will attend the fall conference of the Oregon Association of District Superintendents. He will give a report in the Saturday session from the elementary athletics committee.

Central Point Grange annual turkey dinner will be given on November 13 at the hall. More details will be published later.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Hovland and baby, Janet, are guests at the home of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Collinsworth. The Hovlands are from Washington, D. C., and will vacation here briefly before going to Portland where he will be employed.

Mrs. Cleo McDonough is with her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Clark, at Grants Pass where she is resting. She is reported to be not too well.

Mrs. Ernest Kelly has again resumed her duties at Bear Creek Orchard after spending several months recuperating at home from surgery which she underwent early this summer.

Crater P-TA Elects Peffley Secretary

Mrs. Earl Peffley was elected secretary of Crater P-TA at the first meeting of the organization held Monday evening.

An estimated 100 parents attended the opening meeting which was "back to school" night for parents to acquaint them with teachers.

A short business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Ben Day, president. Mrs. Arnold Bohnert presented a past presidents pin to Carl Hover. Mrs. Day introduced Mrs. Scott Hamilton, first vice president, and Mrs. Robert Sears, membership chairman.

Mrs. Hamilton introduced the teachers. Principal Arthur Straus told parents about class periods at the high school and directed them to rooms and classes attended by their children.

A social hour followed.

150 Attend FHA Convention Saturday

An estimated 150 FFA members, mothers and advisors attended the Future Homemakers of America convention held last Saturday at Crater High school with the local chapter as hostesses.

Representatives were present from Grants Pass, Rogue River, Medford Junior high, Medford Senior high, Talent and Phoenix.

Outstanding talks were given by Mrs. Don A. Faber, past state president, and Mrs. Alvin Roberts, who spoke on Japan. Mrs. Gretchen Wade gave a demonstration which was a TV show how to plan a Halloween party.

Theme for the conference was "United We Work for Better Homes."

M. Bohnert Helps College Team Win

Oregon State college livestock judging team won fourth place honors in the Inter-Collegiate Livestock Judging contest held at the Pacific International in Portland last week.

Team members are: Marilyn Bohnert, Central Point, Betty Stellmacher and Stan Heinkle, all juniors; Brent Horn, Jim Shibley and alternate Bill Pruitt, all seniors.

Miss Stellmacher and Miss Bohnert were high on the team for over-all judging score. Brent Horn took high individual honors in beef judging.

The team will travel to San Francisco today, Thursday, to compete in the Inter-Collegiate Livestock Judging contest at the Grand National Livestock Exposition.
