

Gail Skyrman Weds D. Smith In Holiday Rites

Miss Gail Skyrman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Keith Skyrman of Central Point, became the bride of Douglas Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Smith of Gold Hill, in an evening ceremony during the holiday season at the Gold Hill Community Methodist church.

Rev. Gerald Gear conducted the nuptial ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride wore a white wool dress, princess style, with three-quarter length sleeves. Her dress was accented with red shoes and a small white hat. She carried red roses on a white Bible.

The maid of honor was Miss Marion Smith, sister of the bridegroom. She lives in Gold Hill and attends Willamette University. She wore a charcoal gray tailored suit with red accessories. She wore a red carnation corsage.

Attending the groom as best man was Hal Prooman, Medford. Gordon Mekvold of Central Point served as the usher.

Candlelighters were Miss Vicki Noel, Central Point, and Miss Verity Day, Sams Valley.

The church was decorated with ferns and poinsettias. Mrs. Grace Bruce played the piano and Mrs. Norman Gail sang "Because" and "Wedding Prayer."

A reception followed the ceremony. Approximately 100 people attended. Mrs. Melvin Burnett served the punch. Mrs. T. L. Cooper served the cake and coffee and Mrs. Orville Hamilton served the tea.

The bride formerly lived in Central Point. She attended Crater high school and will furnish high school in Corvallis. The groom, a graduate of Crater high school, is a sophomore at Oregon State college.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Corvallis.

What to do when an insurance agent calls

1 Go hide under the bed
He might be selling fire insurance, but your house couldn't burn down. Or could it?

2 Tell him you are in Pongo-Pongo
He might be selling accident insurance, but you couldn't have an accident. Could you?

3 Put up a sign that says "Measles"
He might want you to buy burglary insurance. But nobody would ever steal anything from you. Or would they?

Especially an Agent for one of the North America Companies. He stands between you and loss.
