

J'ville Council Seeks Federal Aid

JACKSONVILLE — The city council at Jacksonville last week approved a motion to apply for federal aid to finance a planning survey for a city sewer system. City Recorder B. J. Christianson reported that if a federal agreement were approved the city would have to repay the survey cost only if the system were installed. The same method was employed under the water system improvement, with the survey cost repaid by the bond issue. The Corvallis firm of Cornell, Howland, Hayes and Merrifield was approved by the council to do the survey engineering. City Attorney Ervin Hogan told the council that the U. S. Hotel deed to the city was now written to give the city clear title for use of the property for rental or other purpose to help pay for its maintenance.

New city officers were also sworn in at the meeting. Including Mayor John Keaveny, Councilmen Arthur Davies, Everett Ravenor and Ray Wilson. Christianson was reappointed city recorder and Anna Coleman, treasurer. Outgoing Mayor A. C. Van Galder expressed his appreciation to the council and city officers for cooperation during his term of office. Van Galder was appointed mayor in September, 1953, when Albert Hackert resigned to become city superintendent. Fire Chief Louis Applebaker recommended to the council that the old Bartley residence be condemned as a residence. A four member committee was named to inspect the premises and report back at the next regular meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson, Kerby, Oregon ranchers, have purchased the Rancho court Motel in Jacksonville, according to Clark Walker of the Walker Real estate offices which handled the transaction. The seller was Mrs. Helen Cunningham. The Nelsens plan to add to the units and to improve the property otherwise.

Edward Curtis Herring was inducted into the Army this December.

Mrs. Phyllis Wall, is reported to be convalescing at her home after suffering a heart attack New Year's eve. She may have visitors, relatives reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Job Beeriman announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Berriman, to Sgt. Richard D. Roberts of Central Point, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Roberts. No date has been set for the wedding. Miss Berriman is a 1938 graduate of Jacksonville High school and now is switchboard operator at the Medford hotel. Her fiancé was graduated from Crater High school at Central Point in 1950. Sgt. Roberts is stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky. with the 511th airborne infantry regiment of the 11th airborne division. He is with headquarters company third battalion and is a radio operator in the communications section. Sergeant Roberts was graduated last November 13 from the Non-Commissioned officers' academy at Fort Campbell.

Gerald L. Pawlowiski, a Navy storekeep second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pawlowiski, Route 1, Jacksonville, is serving on the USS Chimon, according to a Navy release. The Chimon, a general stores issue ship, is permanently stationed in the Japan area and provides spare parts for guns and equipment to ships and bases overseas.

Ted Hewlett was a patient one day last week at the Osteopathic hospital for a fractured ankle which he suffered when he stepped from a logging truck.

Friends of Mr. George W. Godward are happy to hear he is home convalescing from surgery and a long illness. Mrs. Godward is being assisted in his care by Lora Young, Jacksonville. Mr. Godward's sister, Mrs. Grace Sanford from Minnesota is visiting him this week at the Godward home.

Mr. and Mr. J. V. Hamaker and children John and Grace were weekend visitors from Horse Creek, California. They visited at the Carl Hoskins, J. B. Noble's and Milton James homes in Jacksonville and Mrs. Hamaker's sister and family in Medford, Mrs. C. M. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Schmidt have just returned from a trip taken over the Christmas and New Year's holidays. They went to Arco, Idaho and from there traveled with some friends to Oklahoma through Texas where they visited Mrs. Schmidt's sister at Dallas. Home by Colorado and Utah, they reported they had a lot of snow and winter weather all along the way. Reaching home last Tuesday.

Mrs. Anna Rumley has returned from Cottage Grove where she has been visiting her daughter and family since before Christmas. Her daughter, the former Frances Rumley, reports that their new baby is doing fine and that they have named him John Edward Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rogers from Tacoma, Wash. Airbase visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christian on a 15 day leave over the holidays. Mrs. Rogers is the former Shirley Christian and she is remaining at the Christian's while awaiting her husband's assignment to Keesler Field, Miss. where he will attend radar school of the next nine months.

Jacksonville Lodge No. 10, IOOF, will hold initiation Friday, January 14. Visitors welcome.

Joint installation of officers was held Friday, Jan. 7 for officers of Jacksonville Odd Fellows Lodge number 10 and Ruth Rebekah Lodge No. 4 in the IOOF hall.

District deputy grand-master, Riley Applegate and Mrs. Shirrel Doty, Rebekah deputy president, were the installing officers.

Installed for the IOOF lodge were Albert Hackert, Noble Grand, Claude Perry and Ben Wertz, right and left supporters.

Carl S. Hoskins, vice grand, Jack McDaniels and Clair Ewart, right and left supporters. Louis Jones, conductor, Carl Black, warden. Clinton Smith; Kindred Thomas, inside guardian; Clarence Black, outside guardian; John Black, secretary; Chester Purcell, treasurer.

Mrs. Ted Greene was installed noble grand for the Rebekah lodge. Mrs. Albert Hackert and Mrs. Jack McDaniels are her officers. Mrs. Kindred Thomas was installed vice grand, with Mrs. Peter Fink and Mrs. Paul Winningham as right and left supporters.

The finance secretary is Mrs. Wendell Matheny; Mrs. Paul Matheny, treasurer. Mrs. George Brownlee was installed as musician. Chaplain is Mrs. Charles Demoinis. Mrs. Job Berriman, flag bearer and Mrs. P. E. Matheny, warden. Mrs. Irvin Boyd inside guardian and Mrs. Carl Garmen, outside guardian. Refreshments followed.

Helping nature help you

RAIN-MAKING is no longer a job for the Medicine Man. Today it is a growing science, pioneered and put to practical use by American industry. Rain clouds, chemicals and the weatherman's know-how are the tools employed to help increase rainfall and snowpack during natural storm conditions.

COPCO management has been interested in cloud seeding since the experimental stage. Convinced of the potential benefits to the area it serves, the Company instituted a long-range program to increase precipitation. If, as is expected, cloud seeding proves successful, it will mean a real water bargain for everybody. Not only will it provide more hydroelectric power, but there will be more water for farmers, stockgrowers, lumbermen and urban residents.

Push-button weather is still a project for the future. In the meantime, COPCO will continue its cloud seeding program, working toward the goals of producing more electric power for your use; conserving our natural resources and providing more water for the people of California and Oregon.

CHAPEL MORTUARY

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Across from Courthouse

Frank Morgan PHONE 2-8030 Harold Snodgrass

MEDFORD, OREGON

THE CALIFORNIA OREGON POWER COMPANY

A Western Company owned and operated by Western People

