

3 Jacksonville Residents Pass In Past Week

By Mrs. Carl Hoskins
JACKSONVILLE—Three Jacksonville residents passed away during the past week.

Services were held this week for Lester Norman who died in Marysville, Calif. He was a former resident of Jacksonville. Interment was in Jacksonville cemetery. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Minnie Norman, Jacksonville; two brothers, Lloyd, Medford, and Capt. Lewis, with the USAF in Greenland, and a sister, Mrs. Neal Walters, San Diego, Calif.

Funeral rites were also held for Mrs. Elizabeth Fuller, 95, who died at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Evans, Jacksonville. Interment was in Fuller cemetery at Pasadena, Calif.

Rites were held Thursday for an old-time resident of Jacksonville, Wilber W. Cameron, 87, with interment in the Jacksonville cemetery. The deceased, a southern Oregon resident for the past 25 years, was born at Union Town, Oregon, on December 23, 1867. He was a retired farmer and stockman from the Applegate valley. Survivors include his wife, Dora, and several nieces and nephews.

Terry Maddox, a sophomore at the University of Oregon, is one of the winners of an Oregon Dad's scholarship. He is majoring in geology.

During an annual meeting held last week at the Jacksonville Presbyterian church, Otto Niedermeyer was elected elder and John Keavney and Melvin Hall were elected trustees.

Jacksonville Museum has changed opening hours to 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. to better accommodate persons wishing to visit the museum during noon hours and for the benefit of school children who come to Jacksonville from throughout southern Oregon and must return in the afternoon. Curator Myrtle P. Lee reports that 863 persons registered at the museum during December and that 171, 815 visitors have now passed through the institution's doors.

Mrs. Norma Hill and Mrs. Mary Crawford, proprietors of the new Jacksonville Dress shop are busily engaged this week assisted by their husbands in remodeling and expanding their shop in order to make room for a line of men's work clothes as well as a more complete line of women's and children's apparel. The Hills live at 207 G. street and have two children, Michael and Merry, who attend St. Mary's academy in Medford. The Crawfords live on Route 1, Bellinger Lane, and have three children, twin girls, Alice and Ann, and a son, Tommy, 11, all of whom attend Jacksonville grade school.

Initiation was held at the IOOF hall for the Ruth Rebekah lodge January 17 when Mrs. Donna Wiggins of Medford and Mrs. Carl Hoskins, Jacksonville, were initiated. Refreshments followed.
