A BRIEF GLIMPSE . . .

Into the Past . . .

From the Files of the American

10 Years Ago . . . 1945

As school goes into the second week for the current school year, the enrollment has reached a new high and is crowding every available space in both grade and high school. The total enrollment is now 439. Of this number, 307 are in the grade school and 132 in the high school.

Harold Kilburn is home on furlough. He is looking fine.

Central Point post 4316, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was instituted and its officers installed at a meeting Sunday in Modern Woodman hall. Marshal M. Day was installed commander; Roy Johnson, senior vice commander; Leonard W. Copinger, junior vice commander, and Wayman Warner, adjutant-quartermaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Oettinger have as guests Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brock of Wichita, Kansas, and Sgt. and Mrs. Ira Brock of Days Creek, Oregon.

20 Years Ago . . . 1935

G. Vella, who is interested in a cheese factory in Petaluma and one in Sonoma Valley, recently completed the purchase of the Rogue Valley Cheese factory here and is figuring on opening up in a big way.

Tim Hodgskins of Central Point is somewhat battered up, but his car is much worse, as the result of a wreck near Central Point cemetery Saturday morning.

O. D. Tucker and family left early Sunday morning after huckleberries at the head of Elk creek. Bill Snyder arrived here last Friday evening on his way to Corvallis where he will attend Oregon State college.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bursell took Mrs. Bursell's sister home to Eugene Sunday, after a week's visit at the Bursell home.

Till Fish Do Us Part
By Beatrice Cook

When a city girl marries a dyed-in-the-wool fisherman, something has to give, and in this case, Bea Cook decides she has two choices, either go fishing with her husband, Bill, thus becoming a fishwife, or to stay at home and become a fish-widow. She decided to go on the fishing trip, and then the fun began.

Her introduction to her husband's fishing pal, Cappy, took stare down the beady-eyed mice watching her from the cupboard.

A few years later they were set to go on a trip on a cabin cruiser with friends, when they were stopped in their tracks at the last moment by a couple of cases of chicken-pox, but not to be bested by a little thing like that, they telephoned their friends, and that chicken-pox has already occurred in that family, and bundle the boys up and go fishing.

All sorts of gay, interesting, and funny things happen to this family, and thru it all Cappy keeps things stirred up with his views on women and fishing, and that never the two should meet.

This book should be enjoyable reading for anyone, and if you are a fisherman, or a fisherman's wife (or widow) this is a book that you won't want to miss reading.
