

CP Gardeners Hear Discussion On Care of Iris

Clean up around iris now to prevent rot, Mrs. Kenneth Farley of Katherine's Gardens, told members of the Central Point Garden club, but it is not necessary to cut back leaves unless moving plants.

In speaking on iris, Mrs. Farley compared the iris of ancient times in the Nile Valley to the some 200 species of today with new colors and ruffling.

The October meeting of the club was at the home of Mrs. H. E. Conger with Mrs. Edward Jones and Mrs. Everett Young assisting the hostess. Chrysanthemums decorated the trays.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. R. D. Kay, members answered roll call by telling of things being done in their gardens. An amendment to the club constitution regarding associate membership was read and discussed. It was announced that the plant sale will be held in the spring. Mrs. Ralph Hixson, librarian, presented several new gardening and arrangement books, available for members' use.

Mrs. John Holmer displayed two arrangements, one of red geranium blooms with plum foliage and the other of spider dahlias in a pillow vase with pyracantha berries, and the group discussed their good and bad points.

Chrysanthemum corsages, as for a football game, after-game party and dance, followed the plans of the corsage committee to feature corsages for various occasions and these went to Mrs. E. E. Reames, Mrs. Paul Anderson, Mrs. Lloyd Seymour and Mrs. Ted Baker. A corsage kit complete with rulers for the ribbon supplies, was made by Mr. Hixson.

It was announced that the second course of the Flower Show School will be held October 25, 26 and 27 at the Central Point Grange hall Mrs. C. W. Anhorn announced committees for the competitive flower show to be held in July.

It was decided to furnish cookies for the Camp White birthday party on October 26. Mrs. Roy Stanley asked that members leave cookies at the home of Mrs. J. E. Vincent, Tuesday October 25. Guests were Mrs. Baker, Mrs. C. L. Morehouse and Mrs. J. Huffine.

Milwaukie Bethel Visits Local Job's Daughters Saturday

Job's Daughters, bethel 38 of Central Point, last Saturday played hostess to Job's Daughters from bethel 10 of Milwaukie.

The Milwaukie bethel arrived Saturday afternoon with 32 girls and several guardians.

In the afternoon, the girls were taken on a tour of KBES-TV, the local television station. At 6:30 p.m. the girls, their escorts and the Crater chapter, Order of DeMolay were served dinner at the Masonic Temple.

The party was then taken upstairs for a short session of introduction. Rolan Vines, honored queen of bethel 10, and Anita Conger, honored queen of bethel 38, announced a short program. Rolan and her sister, Ardee Vines, did some very entertaining pantomimes. After the meeting, the group enjoyed a dance.

The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the bethels of Mrs. Everett Faber and Frank Mays, who will next year serve as grand guardian and grand associate guardian of the state of Oregon.

Everyone enjoyed themselves and it is hoped that bethel 38 will be able to return the visit soon.
