Harrison, Johnson Attend Annual OSC Council Workshop

OREGON STATE COLLEGE—Two high school officers from Crater High school are learning the latest techniques of leadership this week at the second annual student council workshop at Oregon State college.

They are Ron Harrison, president of Crater High school student body, and Karen Johnson, secretary.

More than 150 high school students who will lead their schools during the coming year and 25 advisers are attending the workshop. The week-long meeting will end Friday.

It brings together student leaders and high school advisers to work toward understanding of objectives of student councils. It is sponsored by the Oregon Association of Student Councils in cooperation with OSC.

Grace Gail Tells Gold Hill WSCS Of Week at Camp

By Adah Jones
GOLD HILL—Miss Grace Gail spoke of her week at Camp Magruder, at the Womans Society of Christian Service meeting last Friday afternoon held at the church. Miss Gail was one of four young women attending the thirteenth annual School of Missions from the Eugene district of the Methodist WSCS. Mrs. Melvin Burnett served refreshments during which time the group sat informally around the table and learned from Grace how interesting and alive a week at a mission school can be.

After reviewing the week, for those present, questions were asked and answered, also a variety of leaflets gave further information on the many phases of the work of the WSCS around the world. It was noted that in Belgian Congo the word for the name of the society was Kipendano, which means "the great love for one another."

Devotionals were led by Mrs. Ferd Jones, the theme being "How Real Is the Kingdom."

NEW JERSEY VISITORS

Mrs. Charles H. Pendred and daughter, Margaret Louise, of Merchantville, New Jersey, arrived Tuesday evening by plane for a visit with her mother, Mrs. D. Chesley Bones, and with her sister, Mrs. M. F. Naples. They expect to be here until August 26.
